NEW YORK.

Stokes' Trial Postponed—Canadian Annexation to the United States—The Counterfeit Railway Coupons—Alleged Embezziement by a Railway Manager—Investigation into the O'Neill Murder—Freedmen for Liberia—Meeting of Fire Underwriters.

NEW YORK, November 21, 1872.

A MISSING MERCHANT.

George M. Fevy, a merchant of St. Louis, is missing since Thursday last. His brother is here looking for him, assisted by the detectives. He was known to have carried a large sum of money. There are apprehensions that Fevy has been murdered.

MEETING OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters met at Underwriters' Hall to-day. Delegations were present from all the leading insurance companies in the country. Thomas H. Montgomery, General Agent of the Board, said that since his appointment, six months ago, he had organized 590 local boards, and rated 1,432 different localities. The present exigency required an advance of rates and a standard rule of tariff. He said not only framed Mansard roofs would attract the deliberations of the session, but several qualities of granite have to be criticised.

Mr. Montgomery also intimated that it might be advisable to place a practical prohibitory rate on frame Mansard roofs.

The session will probably last two or three days.

ALLEGED RAILWAY EMBEZZLEMENT.

The Times, upon the authority of Watson, President of the Erie Railway, says H. T. Sweetzer, Manager of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, has resigned, and has paid over seventy-five thousand dollars to General McClellan, President of the company, who had detected him in connivance with residents along the line of the road appropriating a portion of the company's receipts. The friends of Sweetzer deny his guilt. The Secretary of the Great Western road is making a full investigation.

THE O'NEILL MURDER.

The Coroner's investigation into the shooting of Anthony T. O'Neill by James C. King on Monday, was held to-day. The court room was crowded. Mrs. O'Neill was the chief witness to testify to the shooting. A verdict of willful murder was returned against King, who, in answer to the interrogatories, said he was thirty-three years old, was born in Morristown, New Jersey, and is an attorney and counsellor. By advice of his counsel, he declined to say whether or not he is guilty.

THE COUNTERFEIT RAILWAY COUPONS.

The authorities failed to discover the counterfeiter of Union Pacific income bonds. One hundred and eighty coupons purporting to be of $1,000 bonds have been paid, and if the bonds to which they purport to correspond are also engraved, the counterfeit will be at least one hundred and eighty thousand dollars.

THE PRICE OF A HUSBAND.

The widow of A. D. Putnam, who was killed by Foster with a car hook, has brought suit against the Seventh Avenue Railroad Company to recover five thousand dollars for the loss of her husband, her counsel contending that the company was bound to protect him from injury while on their car.

COMPOUNDING A FELONY.

The attempted assassination on Tuesday of Patrick Matthews by Thomas Seavers, in Twelfth street, is said to be kept from the newspapers by political influence. The News charges the brother of the assailant, a police officer, with endeavoring to compound a felony. Seavers was arrested.

CANADIAN ANNEXATION.

The Commercial Advertiser has information that the colonists of British North America are preparing to hold a mass meeting in favor of annexation to the United States. There are said to be ten organizations in the Dominion whose sole aim is annexation.

FREEDMEN FOR LIBERIA.

The steamship San Salvador, from Savannah, with freedmen for Liberia, arrived last evening. This band, numbering two hundred and fifty, is the advance guard of three thousand emigrants.

NEW PATENT STEAM CAR.

Delegations from the City Council and Common Council of Brooklyn witnessed the trial of the new patent steam car to-day on the Bleeker street railroad, which appeared to work well.

STOKES' TRIAL POSTPONED.

The trial of Edward S. Stokes, which was set down for the first Monday in December, has been postponed by consent of the counsel till the second Monday of the same month.

TRIAL TRIP OF A JAPANESE VESSEL.

The Capron, the second vessel of the Japanese fleet building in these waters, will make a trial trip in a few days.

STOKES' COUNSEL.

Stokes in his next trial will be defended by new counsel, his former counsel having retired.

NEW ORLEANS.

The New District Judges Inducted into Office—Extra Session of the Legislature Called—Trouble in the Sheriffalty.

NEW ORLEANS, November 21.—The judicial officers of the Parish of Orleans elected November 4th, have been commissioned by Governor Warmoth. The new Judges of the First, Second, Third, Seventh and Eighth District Courts were inducted into office, Dibble, of the Eighth, being the only one of the out-going Judges who objected. Here quite a skirmish of words ensued, Dibble threatening to call the United States troops to aid him, when he retired. Judge Elmore then proceeded with such cases as were before the Court.

Late in the day Judge Dibble returned and shook hands with Judge Elmore, stating that he (Dibble) would give him no further trouble until the Supreme Court of the State passed upon the matter. The new Judges of the Fifth and Sixth Court will take their seats on Monday, by an agreement with the present incumbent.

EXTRA SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE CALLED.

The Governor issued the following proclamation:

State of Louisiana, Executive Department, New Orleans, November 21, 1872.—Whereas, the present condition of public affairs presenting an extraordinary occasion, I do hereby, by virtue of the power in me vested by the Constitution and the laws enacted thereunder, convene the General Assembly elected on the fourth day of November, A.D. 1872, in extra session, for the period of ten days. The Senators and Representatives of the General Assembly elected on the fourth day of November, A. D. 1872, and the Senators holding over, are therefore summoned to meet in their respective chambers at the Mechanics Institute, now used as a State house in the city of New Orleans, at twelve o'clock, noon, on Monday, the ninth day of December, 1872.

In witness whereof, etc.,

(Signed) H. C. WARMOTH, Governor of Louisiana.

T. A. WOODWARD, Assistant Secretary of State.

It is understood all the city officers will be commissioned in a few days.

TROUBLE AMONG THE SHERIFFS.

Wm. P. Parper, with an order from all the District Courts except the Fourth, recognizing him as civil Sheriff, demanded the office of Sauveret, who, refusing to surrender it, was put out by force. Sauveret then made an application to the Supreme Court for an order restraining District Judges from giving orders interfering with him in the discharge of his duties as civil Sheriff. The Supreme Court refused to grant the order, thus in effect recognizing the validity of the Governor's commissions to the newly elected Parish officers.

A REHEARING ASKED.

The Eighth District Court to-day granted a motion to obtain a rehearing in the case of Herron et al. vs. Wharton et al., recently decided by this Court. The case was fixed for Monday. The plaintiffs applied to the Supreme Court for an order restraining Judge Elmore from further action in this case. The order was refused.

CINCINNATI.

Ohio River Improvement Convention—Memorial to Congress—National Baptist Sunday School Convention.

CINCINNATI, O., November 21.—The Ohio Improvement Convention adjourned to meet at the call of the President. It adopted a resolution to invite the Governors of all States interested in the Ohio River Improvement to send delegates to the next Convention.

The Executive Committee reported a memorial to Congress, which was adopted, and a committee was apointed to present it. It asks Congress to consider the Ohio River Improvement as a national measure, not as a local project, as heretofore. It argues that Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Western Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, and Tennessee, the States represented in the Convention, and directly interested in the improvement asked, contain thirty five per cent. of the population of the United States, and yielded forty per cent. of the farming products of the nation by the last census, and that in 1865 they paid one-third of the revenue of the nation. It asks an appropriation of two millions to defray the expenses of the survey, with the view to establish reservoirs in the streams at the headwaters of the Ohio river, and to perfect a system of buoys and lights already commenced in accordance with the plans of United States engineers and preparatory to complete the improvement of the river.

NATIONAL BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Before the National Baptist Sunday School Convention, this afternoon, Prof. Olney, of Michigan, read a paper on "Bible Teaching," and Miss Morris spoke of "Woman as an Organizer of Sabbath Schools."

OBITUARY.

M. M. Dominick.

MAUCH CHUNK, PA., November 21.—M. M. Dominick, member of Congress from the Eleventh Pennsylvania District, from 1848 to 1852, died this morning. The funeral will take place on Saturday.

REV. SIMON G. FULLER.

SYRACUSE, November 21.—Rev. Simon G. Fuller, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, dropped dead at his residence to-day, aged thirty-six years. He formerly belonged to Pittsburgh.

The Arkansas Governorship.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., November 21.—The Reform Republican Campaign Convention issue an address in the Evening Journal congratulating the people on the election of Joseph Brooks as Governor. The Republicans claim the election of Baxter and their entire State ticket by majorities ranging from 3,000 to 5,000. The prospects are that both will insist on being inaugurated.

THE CAPITAL.

The President at Work on His Message—The Indian Appropriation Bill Perfected—A Libel Suit Entered Against Forney—Report of Supervising Inspector General of Steam Vessels

WASHINGTON, November 21, 1872.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

In the North-west, and thence over the upper lakes and to the Ohio valley, north-westerly winds, rising barometer and occasional light snow, with clearing weather to-morrow; in the Gulf States, cloudy weather, south-westerly winds, and possibly light rain; in the South Atlantic States, northerly to easterly winds, with fair weather; on the lower lakes, and thence over the Middle States and New England, diminishing pressure, southerly winds and increasing cloudiness.

REPORT OF SUPERVISING INSPECTOR GENERAL OF STEAM VESSELS.

Joseph Nimmo, Supervising Inspector General of Steam Vessels, has submitted his annual report to the Secretary of the Treasury. He recommends that the power of the assistant inspectors be extended so that they may be qualified to perform all official acts now devolving upon local inspectors; also that power should be given by law to the Secretary of the Treasury to convene investigating boards, which boards should have plenary power to inquire into all the circumstances attending casualties, and to suspend or revoke the license of steamboat inspectors derelict in their duty.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

President Grant devotes several hours of the morning to the preparation of his message, and receives guests for a limited time in the after noon. The message will not be printed in advance of its transmission to Congress, but, as heretofore, manuscript copies will be furnished to representatives of the press at the Executive Mansion about the time the President's secretary shall have reached the capitol with the official document.

APPROPRIATION BILLS.

The Committee on Appropriations having perfected the Indian appropriation bill, proceeded to-day to the preparation of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. There are fourteen general appropriation bills to be reported to the House of Representatives, five of which will be ready by the meeting of Congress. Not more than half of the official estimates have been submitted to the committee, and this delay operates against the committee's progress.

LIBEL SUIT.

Colonel W. Penn, clerk for Allen Rutherford, Third Auditor, has entered suit in the Circuit Court of this district against John W. Forney, laying his damages at $10,000, for libel.

THE WEATHER.

Terrible Snow Storm in Minnesota.

CHICAGO, November 21.—A special from St. Paul, Minnesota, says that gloomy news may be anticipated from the Minnesota track-layers on the extension of the Winona and St. Peters Railroad. They were approaching the western State line at the rate of two miles daily, when the terrible storm of last Thursday night enveloped them and cut them off from all communication with the civilized world. The working force numbers over eight hundred men, and so sanguine were their expectations that favorable weather would outlast November that no preparation was made to avoid the calamity which it is feared has befallen them. Only a small supply of provisions was kept in store, for although one hundred miles from the telegraph, construction trains maintained regular communication with Sleepy Eye, the nearest white settlement. When intelligence of the storm had reached Winona, J. H. Stewart, General Superintendent, started out with two locomotives and a train of cars, but so heavy and deep were the snow drifts, and so intense the cold, that up to Saturday morning they had not passed New Ulm. There two additional locomotives were attached to the train, and then taking on board rations for thirty days, and one hundred and fifty men, besides materials with which to fit up boarding accommodations in the cars, the train was again started, and a passage way was forced through drifts eight and ten feet deep, and even where the snow did not exceed one foot in depth, so hard was it packed that recourse was had to shovels before advance could be made.

On Sunday the train had penetrated twenty-five miles. In the meantime the storm had raged with a violence unprecedented, and when last heard from, on Tuesday night, the relief train was stuck fast in the ever accumulating snow forty miles west of Sleepy Eye, and eighty miles short of the suffering track layers. Yesterday morning the telegraph wires were down west of St. Peters, and all communication was shut off.

The latest reports from Arizona in the afternoon state that the wind had increased into a furious gale. For six days the storm has continued with unabated fury. The painful impression created is that the men at the end of the track will actually starve before relief can reach them. No supplies are known to be accessible, for the line is being constructed in advance of the Government surveys far into the country, inhabited only by a few adventurous squatters and sickly Indians.

ST. LOUIS.

Meeting of the American Woman's Association.

ST. LOUIS, November 21.—The American Woman's Suffrage Association held a regular business session at the Temple to-day, Mrs. Lucy Stone, President, in the chair. Various business committees were appointed, and reports from the Executive Committee and several State associations, detailing at considerale length work done during the past year, and sketching the progress of the movement, were presented and read. The report of the Executive Committee was read by Julia Ward Howe. Among many other things, she stated that the national conventions held by both parties had been appealed to in behalf of woman; that the Liberal Conventions gave them cold shoulders, while the Republicans treated them with much consideration, and formally recognized their claims; also that associations to aid women generally who are favorable to the extension of the franchise had used their influence and accomplished much for the success of the Republican party in the late campaign, and that they must look in the future to the Republican party for their final triumph.

Several speeches were made, one by Lucy Stone, who gave a very interesting account of the growth of the woman's rights movement during the past twenty years.

This evening a general meeting is being held, with a large audience in attendance, at which Mrs. Howe, Miss Eastman, Mrs. Langley, Mrs. Cutler, and several more of the most active and prominent ladies made speeches, which were well received.

DAYTON.

Reunion of the Army of the Cumberland.

DAYTON, O., November 21.—The fifth annual reunion of the Army of the Cumberland, which has been in session in this city during the past two days, is one of the largest and most enjoyable meetings ever had. A large number of the most prominent Generals and subordinates officers of the Army of the Cumberland are present, which added greatly to the interest of the meeting. The usual business has been transacted satisfactory to all. General Wood delivered the annual address last evening, which was received with loud applause.

By a special invitation of Post No. 5 G. A. R., headquarters at the Soldiers' Home, the society visited that institution, where they were received with military honors, and after visiting all points of interest, they returned to this city, and to-night wound up with the most elegant banquet in Music Hall ever witnessed in this city. The usual toasts were indulged in and a general good time had by all. The society, before adjourning, decided by a vote of 71 majority that the next place of holding their union shall be in Pittsburgh, on the 17th and 18th of September, 1873.

STATE NEWS.

LUZERNE county has the horse disease bad.

A NUMBER of miners have left Scranton bound for Chicago, to work in the coal fields of Illinois.

UNIONTOWN jail contains six prisoners—three for murder, one for shooting with intent to kill, one for burglary and one for forgery.

THERE are 2,000 loaded coal cars blockading the D. & H. Railroad between Carbondale and Honesdale, owing to the sickness of horses on the canal, which prevents transportation.

A FINE vein of block coal, three feet three inches thick, has been struck at the depth of one hundred and sixty-four feet, on the farm of David Robison, Hickory township, Mercer county, Pa.

MR. THOMAS SUTTON, of Indiana, Pa., has disposed of his interest in the paper mill to Mr. John Sutton. It is the intention of Mr. Sutton to go into the steel business in Allegheny, to which city he will move.

SILVER has been found in paying quantities in Luzerne county, near Shickshinny. A ton of ore sent to the Philadelphia Mint, yielded fourteen hundred and forty-one dollars and ninety-eight cents, which is considered very rich.

GREELEY has majorities in only twelve counties of Pennsylvania. These are Berks, Clearfield, Columbia, Elk, Fulton, Greene, Lehigh, Monroe, Northumberland, Pike, Sullivan and York. Fifty-four counties gave majorities for Grant.

MR. JAMES MCDERMOTT, one of the best young Nimrods of Westmoreland county, shot a large white swan near his residence in Unity township, on Monday. Small game in that section is said to be very plenty, but swans are quite rare.

THE borough council at Downington has abated the tax on all real estate used and employed in the manufacture of iron, steel, woolen and cotton fabrics, paper and glass, for a period of three years after their establishment or commencement of operation.

REIS, BROWN & BERGER, proprietors of the Shenango Iron Works, New Castle, employ about 650 men at their works, to whom they pay over $20,000 every two weeks. They also employ a large number of men at their coal and ore banks.

GEO. HOPKINS, whose disappearance from Millsville, near Monongahela City, with Mrs. Sailes, his good-looking chambermaid, was noticed by us recently, and who left his wife and family in suffering circumstances, has turned up at Eight-Milestone, Isle of Wight, England. Mrs. Sailes is with him.

THE steam grist mill of Hofius, Gibson & Co., at Sharon, was destroyed by fire last Friday night. The flames were first discovered at about eight o'clock, and in a short time the building was consumed. The citizens made every effort to conquer the fire, but their attempts proved unavailing. The loss is estimated at $20,000. Insured for $13,500. It is rumored that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

APPENDED is a report of the casualities in and about the mines in the Schuylkill district, from January 17, to October 23, 1872: Killed in the mining districts 81; maimed and injured, 211; surviving widows, 43; orpans, 143. Casualities in the district not connected with the mines: 55 killed; 90 maimed and injured; leaving 28 widows and 84 orphans. Total number killed, 136; injured, 291; widows, 71; orphans, 227.

THE Mercer Press says: On Friday of last week, a son of Mr. Hugh Munnel, near Leesburg, Springfield township, was accidentally killed while driving a team in company with his brother through a field. It seems they stopped to get a hat of one of the boys which had blown off, and in getting into the wagon the lines were forgotten, which had dropped down. The wagon was under a tree at the time, and before they had got ready to start, a limb fell and struck the lad on top of the head, crushing the skull. Drs. Mehard, of this place, were called and pronounced the case a fatal one, and death ensued at midnight. The boy was aged about twelve years.

AT Ashland a Mrs. Courtney, from Pottsville, Pa., a young married lady of extraordinary beauty, has been for some weeks past a guest at the Astor House, where a merchant named Tenant, who does business as a commission, saw her, and immediately fell in love with her. He followed her every footstep, which became so annoying to the lady that she lodged complaint at the police headquarters, when officer Tully was detailed to watch the enamored gentleman. This did not succeed, for on Tuesday morning Tenant sneaked to the lady's room door and under the pretense of the chambermaid asking admission caused her to open the door. She did not see her mistake until too late. Tenant entered, put his arms around her and belabored her with a mass of kisses. Her shrieks for help, however, soon brought a number of the hotel guests to the spot who caused the intruder to retreat into the cellar of the hotel. He was secured, not without laying the strength of their fists upon him pretty freely, however, and handed over to the police. He was committed for trial without bail.

ON Friday night of week before last a villain who gave the name of Thomas Grant, and who claimed to belong to New York, entered the dry goods store of Mr. Duncan, in Beaver Falls, Beaver county. Mr. Parot, the clerk, on returning from a party about twelve o'clock, noticed the door ajar, and was about to enter when the burglar knocked him out upon the pavement, and then made rapid tracks. Recovering himself, Parot gave chase; and as Grant was delayed by falling over a sand pile that lay in the way of his escape, the clerk came upon him before he could regain his feet, and, jumping upon him, commenced punishing him severely on the head with the store key, and finally, after a severe struggle, succeeded in reducing him to a comfortable state of quietness and submission. A number of keys and other scientific implements of his trade were found on him, and although great inducements were held out to him, he refused to expose any of his pals. Saturday (the next morning) he was committed to jail. Tuesday following a true bill was found against him, the same day he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary for four years, and we presume the next day was conveyed to the State institution.

WEST VIRGINIA.

IN the neighborhood of Cambridge considerable quantities of wool have been bought recently at from 50 to 55 cents. Quite a number of the producers still await higher prices.

A WRITER in the Wheeling Intelligencer endeavors to prove that the horse disease is contageous and is carried from point to point by human beings who handle horses so afflicted.

IN Kanawha county, the Courier states the number of marriages this year will fall short of last year by at least fifty. That is probably because the capital is going to be moved this winter.

A WEALTHY gentleman of Wheeling, who owns a country seat, nearly lost his wife, who fell into the Ohio river which flows through his estate. He announced the narrow escape to his friends, expecting their congratulations. One of them, an old bachelor, spoke as follows: "I always told you that river was too shallow."

DURING the late political contest, the Republican papers of Belmont repeatedly charged that there was discrepancy between the amount of bonds issued for the building of the Somerton and Warnock pikes, and the amount redeemed, amounting for the two pikes to over $10,000. These charges have become so serious that the Commissioners have called a meeting for an investigation.

ONE evening last week a man entered the store of Conrad Troll, of St. Clairsville, and quietly walked behind the counter, opened the money drawer, and abstracted therefrom the largest pile of greenbacks, and as quietly walked out, stopping to converse with Mr. Troll who was standing in the door; Mr. John Troll was in the back part of the store room and saw the man enter, but thinking it was his father, he paid little attention.

THE Directors of the Wheeling and Toledo Railroad met at Steubenville last week. There were also in attendance quite a large number of gentlemen from Hopedale, Cadiz, and other places of Ohio. After a full interchange of opinion and views, the Directors decided to locate the road by way of Hopedale, provided the people along the route raised the necessary subscription, which they agreed to do. Gentlemen from Cadiz informed said their people would cordially acquiesce in the decision of the Directors, and that they would give up all hopes of securing the road through their place.

A Lunatic Burned to Death.

An old man named Richard Rice was adjudged to be a lunatic by a jury in the county court, at Covington, Ky., a short time ago, and a committee appointed to take charge of him. The asylum at Lexington being full, admission for the old man into that institution could not be obtained for some time, and he was accordingly taken to his residence, about three miles south of Independence, where a sort of cell was built in one of the rooms, into which he was placed, so that he could not do himself or others harm. Last Friday, the weather being pretty cold, the cell was shoved up within a few feet of the fire-place, and during the night Rice tore open his mattress, made a rope out of a portion of the straw he got out of it, stuck the end of the rope into the fire, and, drawing it back into the cell, set fire to his bedding, and was burned to death before any one on the place could render assistance. Mr. Rice was seventy years old, and a man of considerable property.

PHILADELPHIA.

Presbyterian Tercentenary Celebration.

PHILADELPHIA, November 21.—The Presbyterians are celebrating the Tercentenary of Presbyterianism at the Penn square church, which is appropriately decorated. The clergymen and others met at the new building of the Presbyterian Publishing House, and marched in procession to the church. After appropriate opening services, a memorial address was delivered by Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., LL. D. Historical papers were read at the afternoon session.

Fatal Shooting Affray in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, November 21.—Information has reached this city of a desperate vendatta in Union county, a few days ago, in which two men lost their lives. Two brothers named McCumber were running a mill. They had an employe named Saunders. The McCumbers had a wordy altercation with Saunders, which resulted in one of them shooting Saunders in the side. Saunders returned the fire, killing one instantly and inflicting a wound on the other of which he died.

—A letter from Rear Admiral Taylor, commanding the United States naval force at the South Atlantic station, dated at Rio Janeiro, Brazil, October 25th, says that on the 15th of October, by request of the Brazilian authorities, the flagship Lancaster was dressed with the masthead flags, and at noon a salute of twenty-one guns was fired in honor of the baptismal day of the Brazilian Emperor.

A YOUNG man named Patrick Shay, employed at a gravel pit on the Short Line road, was run over and instantly killed, about four miles south of Dayton, Ohio, while attempting to get on a gravel train in motion, on Tuesday evening. Several cars passed over him, nearly severing the upper part of his body.

HARRISBURG.

The Personnel of the Constitutional Convention.

ONE HUNDRED LAWYERS AND THIRTY-THREE WHO ARE NOT LAWYERS.

The Persecuted Railroad Companies in the Convention.

OCCUPATION OF DELEGATES WHEN NOT MAKING CONSTITUTIONS.

[Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, November 20, 1872.

ONE HUNDRED LAWYERS AND THIRTY-THREE HONEST MEN.

In glancing over the delegates as they appear in Convention, one is struck by the fact that the large majority are in the prime of life, and presumably in the meridian of their mental and moral development. While there are a number of delegates under thirty years, there are none so aged as to be unfitted for work, or that diligent research sometimes necessary to a proper discharge of public duties. Of practical experience in all departments of life there is an abundance in the Convention, but there is a very decided preponderance of the legal profession, and rather a smaller representation of great manufacturing and commercial interests than would be naturally looked for. There are old lawyers and young lawyers in abundance among the delegates; nine who have advanced high in professional and political eminence—cabinet ministers, judges, governors and the like—and others who have yet to win their professional shoulder-straps. Then there are retired lawyers, who have taken up farming, politics and railroading as a profession, and besides attorneys for all sorts of corporations. If the law is the perfection of human wisdom, then there is a great deal of that quality in the Convention, if it resides in the legal breast. It is the presumption of course they are all honest, God-fearing men, loving the State and abjuring evil ways, and that they have come here seriously ambitious of promoting the general welfare, and have left their special attorney shops in their upper desks, not to be thought of in connection with their duties as constitutionalists—to borrow an odious phrase. One of the delegates the other day classified the Convention as made up of one hundred lawyers and thirty-three honest men; but this implied a slander. Another fact—a reputed fact rather—causes some comment, serious, ill-natured, and jocular as the case may be, and that is, that of the legal gentlemen in the Convention, between fifty and sixty are the attorneys of corporations, of the various grades and descriptions with which the statute books of the State are running over. This has a bad look, but the statement may be an exaggeration. The Reading Railroad is represented by its President, Mr. Gowen, a very acute and clear-headed gentleman, and it is said he has eight or ten special attorneys of his road with him in the Convention. The Reading will be taken care of, if it needs a whole section. The Pennsylvania Railroad, a corporation always singularly diffident in obtruding its modest wishes, either in the Legislature or the Councils of Pittsburgh, has in the Convention Theodore Cuyler, its chief law officer, with a number of special attorneys, from I don't know how many counties. Edward C. Knight, one of the Board of Directors of the Company, is a member, too. Other railroads—although there are not many in the State, outside of these two, able to stand alone,—have also their representatives in the Convention.

Now there may be nothing in this, save one of those "extraordinary" coincidences, like the spilling of the stage load of voters in the canal by the elder Mr. Weller, but it will be the effect of making the people scrutinize the action of the Convention on a certain class of questions with great closeness. The common way of looking at the matter here is, that it don't matter much; the corporations have got about all they want, and the sublime principles of "vested rights"—the Sermon on the Mount of the monopoly chiefs will keep them in possession. If there is any little thing that has not been attended to—any grant of power that it is at all desirable—is there not another Legislature, and the last one it is to be hoped with unlimited powers to fix it, sell, bargain and convey what didn't belong to it, just looming into view? No suppliant will be turned away from its doors; and what there is left in the State to give away, capable of being conveyed by legal phraseology, you may be sure will be passed over to the gentlemen of the third house, provided their arguments are good and reasons solid. Oh, Sammy Moon, Sammy Moon!

THE PERSONNEL OF THE DELEGATES.

In addition to the other good things I have said of the delegates to the Convention, it may be remarked that they represent a great deal of accumulated capital. There are millionaires among them—three or four from Philadelphia, and many others who count up their available capital by the hundreds of thousands. In respect of wealth it is the heaviest deliberative body that ever met in Pennsylvania. Hence, its eminent respectability is apparent. No trifling with the conservative principles of society here. No experimenting outside of well established usages and laws, from which has grown this great individual prosperity. In the sense that wealth is conservative, the Convention is decidedly of that persuasion. Even Mr. Buckalew's minority representative plan has the misfortune to be deemed visionary, and he a dreamer. It will hardly have a chance until the example of a dozen other States has hammered the idea into our slow-moving Pennsylvania intelligence.

Aided by the good natured assistance of Major Onslow, the Sergeant-at-arms of the Convention, I have gleaned the annexed information of the occupation of the delegates, which I think is sufficiently curious to go down in history; of the delegates, there are—

Two members of the Convention have been Cabinet Ministers; two Judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; one Governor and Minister to Russia—at present sorrowfully drinking the water of our noted saline stream; another Minister to Turkey; one United States Senator, foreign Minister and candidate for Governor; six have been members of Congress; fifteen or twenty members of the Legislature; and seven filled executive departments of the State Government. Philadelphia has among its delegates the President of its Select Council, the President of the Board of Education, the Register of Wills, Health Officer of the city, members of Building and Park Commissions; and several members of the City Councils, indicating that things over there run in a groove with a tendency towards a circle, or ring. Four of the delegates—Meredith, Woodward, Darlington, and Purviance, of Allegheny, were members of the Convention of 1838. A father and son, G. W. and H. W. Palmer, in part represent the XIIIth District, the father as a Liberal and the son a Republican. One clergyman, a Methodist local preacher, lends the Convention the sanction of his presence and example. There is one author in the list, Mr. Carey, who writes on Political Economy—a cheerful and pleasing subject. Lancaster county sends as its Democratic representative, Mr. Smith, of the Intelligencer, who with Mr. Campbell, of the Philadelphia Legal Intelligencer, constitute the editorial strength of the Convention. Mr. Hopkins, delegate from Washington county, was Speaker of the Assembly during the celebrated Buckshot War. Colonel Mott, delegate from the Luzerne District, will be recollected as the Democratic candidate for Canal Commissioner, who in 1854 beat Geo. Darsie of Pittsburgh, over a hundred thousand votes. That was in the first flush of Know-Nothing times, and Mr. Darsie had the misfortune to be a Scotchman as well as an ante-jobbing canal man.

LEGISLATURES.

North Carolina.

RALEIGH, November 21.—No business of special importance was transacted in the General Assembly to-day. Owing to defects in the returns of the election for State officers, the joint session of both houses for comparing the vote has been adjourned to the first Wednesday in December, and a resolution was adopted requiring the sheriffs to correct and send in corrected returns.

Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, November 21.—There has been no change to-day in legislative affairs. The Legislature which meets at the capitol will probably count the vote for Governor and other State officers at 12 o'clock to-morrow.

The Constitutional Convention.

THE PRESIDENT STILL CONSIDERING THE STANDING COMMITTEES.

An Explosion of Members Charged with Constitutional Reform.

PROPOSITIONS AFFORDING SOME IDEA OF THE CONVENTION WORK.

Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, November 21, 1872.

THE COMMITTEES.

The President was not prepared to announce the Standing Committees this morning, and only an hour's session of the Convention was held. From all accounts the subject of the committees and their proper construction is a delicate and embarassing duty, increased probably by the fact that the President had but a limited acquaintance with the delegates when they met, and the assignment requires a knowledge of the past pursuits of members as well as their peculiar qualifications for certain branches of constitutional investigation. The more prominent members of the Convention could be easily disposed of, but the trouble with the President arises when he comes to deal with the great mass of the members of whom he knows nothing personally, and but little by reputation. Such is fame. The time consumed in making up the Committees is not grudged, and the Convention is very patient on the subject, for the delegates generally understand how much depends on their judicious arrangement, in advancing the work, when the actual labor of the Convention once commences. It is expected that the Committees will be announced to-morrow morning.

A FLOOD OF AMENDMENTS.

After the routine business, ex-Congressman Broomall opened the flood gates of constitutional reform by a resolution instructing the appropriate Committees when appointed to inquire into the propriety of amending the Constitution so that—

The Governor shall hold office four years, and then be ineligible to re-election until after the expiration of four years;

That all Judges learned in the law shall be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate; to hold office during good behavior, and suitable provision be made for retiring them when disqualified by infirmity;

That all special exemptions from taxation be prohibited;

That the term of representatives be extended to two years and Senators to four years, with one regular session every two years;

That the suffrage be extended to all adults without regard to sex;

That all electors shall reside in the election district ninety days, and have paid State or county tax within one year, which shall have been assessed within sixty days before voting.

AN AVALANCHE.

Then followed an avalanche of resolutions of a similar character, proposing instructions for committees. Some of the most striking may be enumerated as follows:

That the Judges of the Supreme Court be increased, and the State divided into districts to which they shall be assigned;

That all bills in the Legislature be read at large on three different days; that they all be printed, and on final passage the yeas and nays called on every bill, and on appropriation bills on every appropriation separately;

That all appropriations for denominational or sectarian purposes or schools be prohibited. This was presented in several forms, covering every possible phase of the question;

That the length of residence of electors in election districts, prior to voting, be increased. This also was submitted in several forms;

That the offices of Aldermen and Justices of the Peace be abolished, and minor courts substituted with judges learned in law;

That all public officers shall be paid salaries, and all fees be paid into the treasury;

That the power of the Executive to grant pardons be limited. This also was presented in several forms;

That no law be passed limiting amount of damages to be recovered;

That no Judge shall deliver any but a written charge to a jury, a copy of which shall be filed with the records;

Defining terms of office of members of the Legislature;

Prohibiting sale or other disposition of cemeteries;

A proposition was submitted that all persons resident in the State one year, be entitled to vote for State, county and municipal officers.

To compel every voter under certain penalties to exercise the right of suffrage;

That no man's property shall be taken for public or corporate uses unless the necessity of such taking shall be passed upon;

That trial by jury may be waived by consent of parties in all cases;

That judges be prohibited from charging juries as to facts, except as far as the same may be necessary to explain the law;

To prohibit the Governor and members of the Legislature from accepting a free pass on railroads;

To prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors;

Providing for compulsory education;

A form of preamble for the Contitution acknowledging Divine supremacy, etc.;

That juries may return verdicts when agreed on by two-thirds of the jurors;

That the truth in suits for libel be a sufficient defense, if the publication is made from good motives.

General White submitted the form of article prohibiting special legislation in certain specified cases, and in all cases where authority to grant powers is or may be conferred upon the courts. This is substantially identical with the provision of the Illinois Constitution on the subject of special legislation.

Mr. Cochrane presented an amendment requiring naturalization six months before voting.

Mr. Hay, of Allegheny, submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Revenue and Taxation to ascertain the proportion of real property in the State exempt from taxation under general or special laws; and declaring that all property but that under the control of the commonwealth, counties, boroughs, cities, etc., be subject to taxation except cemeteries; and that no other than a general law shall be passed exempting property from taxation. Several propositions of this character were presented.

Mr. Hopkins presented an amendment providing for the punishment of bribery by public officials or members of the Legislature.

All this will suffice to indicate the bent of the mind intent on Constitutional Reform. Some of the above propositions are but the reflex of settled public convictions, while others are innovations of a more striking character.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Mr. Wetherell offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Auditor General for information as to the amount of money paid for State printing under existing contracts, and also the proportion paid for work that cannot be embraced in the schedule of rates prescribed by law. This is to get an idea of what printers call "fat," and what it costs the State.

A resolution was adopted that the Auditor General report the amount of fees severally paid into the State Treasury since 1867 by certain "row" officers in Philadelphia.

A resolution was rejected calling for information as to all pardons granted by the Executive of the State since 1838. The Convention is cautious in calling for information, the necessity of which is not apparent. GAZETTE.

[By Associated Press.]

HARRISBURG, PA., November 21.—In the Constitutional Convention here to-day, the following propositions were made: Increasing the Governor's term to four years, extending the term of Senators to four years; and that of Representatives to two years, with biennial sessions of the Legislature; to amend the pardoning power and the appointment of counsel on the subject of prohibiting appropriations for charitable or educational purposes; prohibiting a Legislative or Judicial officer from receiving railroad passes; compelling attendance at public schools; authorizing juries to render verdicts by the assent of two-thirds.

LEXINGTON.

Destructive Conflagration.

LEXINGTON, KY., November 21.—A fire broke out in Dow & Bro.'s planing mill, at nine o'clock to-night, which is likely to prove most disastrous. The fire has already extended two blocks, and over twenty-five houses have been burned.

LEXINGTON, KY., November 22—1 A. M.—The fire which broke out about nine o'clock last night in Dow & Bro.'s planing mill, on Mechanics street, is now under complete control, and the loss will not be as great as at first estimated. A strong north-west wind was blowing at the time, which carried the sparks a great distance, and at one time the entire northern portion of the city was threatened with destruction. The epizootic has disabled all the horses of the fire department, and the steamers, which were drawn by the citizens, were considerably delayed in reaching the fire.

There were nineteen buildings destroyed, the majority of which were tenement houses, principally occupied by negroes.

THE OLD WORLD.

Proceedings in the French Assembly—Trial by Jury Bill Passed—Measures Recommended by the "Left Centre"—Ecclesiastical Rights Submitted to the Prussian Diet—Two Vessels Lost at Sea.

FRANCE.

REPLY TO THIERS' MESSAGE.

PARIS, November 21.—President Thiers will not appear to-day before the committee appointed to draw up an address in reply to his message at the opening of the National Assembly; he will, however, at the end of the meeting of the committee to-morrow.

ASSEMBLY PROCEEDINGS.

VERSAILLES, November 21.—In the Assembly this afternoon Deputy Pascal Duprot introduced a bill for the restoration to the Orleans family of their property confiscated in 1852.

The trial by jury bill was passed by a vote of 461 to 178.

The committee on the address in reply to the President's message has had two long sittings since its organization. The proceedings are secret.

MEASURES RECOMMENDED BY THE LEFT CENTRE.

PARIS, November 21—Evening.—At the meeting of deputies of the Left Centre to-day the committee which had been appointed to draw up a platform and policy made their report. They recommend to the support of the party in the Assembly the following measures: The appointment of a parliamentary committee of thirty to deliberate upon and report to the Assembly organic laws best fitted to insure the working of the legal government of the Republic; the prolongation of President Thiers' term of office for four years; the nomination of a Vice President; the creation of a second chamber; the partial or complete renewal of the Assembly, and ministerial responsibility and general harmonizing of Republican institutions.

The report was unanimously adopted.

GAMBETTA'S DECLARATION ENDORSED.

The members of the Extreme Left endorse the declaration of Gambetta that the dissolution of the National Assembly is some remedy for the present difficulties.

GERMANY.

EXPLANATIONS FROM HAYTI.

BERLIN, November 21.—General Brice, Special Envoy from the Republic of Hayti, arrived in this city to open diplomatic relations with Germany. He intends to lay before the Government explanations of the delay in the payment of the German demands, and a remonstrance against the arbitrary action of the German corvettes at Port au Prince.

ECCLESIASTICAL RIGHTS BILL.

BERLIN, November 21.—The ecclesiastical rights bill, prohibiting the issue of decrees of excommunication, has been submitted to the Diet. It declares that any clergyman who shall by name threaten with punishment, or decree or proclaim as punishable, a subject of Prussia, shall be liable to a fine of five thousand thalers or two years' imprisonment, and be ineligible to office for a term of five years.

GREAT BRITAIN.

ALLEGED SWINDLER ARRAIGNED.

LONDON, November 21.—Robert Rawles was arraigned to-day before the Lord Mayor on a charge of fraudulently converting two hundred debentures of Lombard's Venitian Railway. Dogiot, a banker, of Naples, is the prosecutor. Rawles was remanded for a further examination on Tuesday next.

VESSELS LOST AT SEA.

The barks Samuel Larrabee, from Savannah for Bremen, and Lauercost, from Baltimore for Belfast, have been lost at sea, together with all on board.

CONSTABLE OF THE TOWER OF LONDON.

LONDON, November 21.—Field Marshal Sir Wm. Maynard Gowin was installed to-day as Constable of the Tower of London.

WEST INDIES.

TWO OF CABRAL'S GENERALS KILLED.

Advices from St. Domingo to the 1st inst. state that the Baesists have killed Ogando and Adon, the bravest of Cabral's generals.

UNEMPLOYED SLAVES TO BE SOLD.

The Government, through the Commissioners of the Public Debt, intends to sell all slaves not employed on plantations, and also the slaves of stock companies and other moveable embargoed properties belonging to the adherents of the revolution.

GOING TO SPAIN.

Brigadier Generals Mendiuna and Ampudia go to Spain to-day, to meet the accusations against them.

AUSTRALIA.

MARRYING A DECEASED WIFE'S SISTER.

MELBOURNE, VICTORIA, November 21.—The bill legalizing marriage to a deceased wife's sister has passed the Legislature of Victoria.

KIDNAPPERS TO BE HANGED.

The captain and mate of the brig Carl, tried at Sydney for the murder of a number of Polynesian natives, whom they kidnapped to sell into slavery, have been found guilty and sentenced to be hanged.

SPAIN.

THE CARLIST MOVEMENT TO BE CRUSHED.

MADRID, November 21, via LONDON, November 22, 3 A. M.—Senor Zorilla announced to the lower house of the Cortes to-day that the Government would take energetic action to crush the Carlist movement in Catalonia.

ITALY.

SUPPRESSION OF RELIGIOUS CORPORATIONS.

ROME, November 21.—A bill for the suppression of religious corporations has been introduced in the Chamber of Deputies.

BOSTON.

Losses by Wednesday's Fire—Advance in Leather—Committee Appointed to Investigate the Cause of the Great Fire—Contributions for Harvard College—The Coliseum to be Removed.

BOSTON, November 21.—Among the losses by the fire last night was the December number of Old and New and Littell's Living Age, and about seventy thousand copies of the Well Spring. The publishers of these periodicals also lost large quantities of paper stock, as did Messrs. Osgood & Co., Lee & Shephard, Sampsten & Davenport, publishers of the New England Register, the Bill Publishing Company of Norwich, Connecticut, Iverson Phinney, Blackman & Co., and the University Publishing Company of New York, whose loss is very heavy in school text books.

The Congregational Publishing Society lose $25,000, insured; Henry Hoyt, publisher of Sunday school books, $20,000, insured; Thomas Strahan & Son, $15,000, uninsured; Solomon & Samuels, clothing $15,000, uninsured; J. P. Lovell & Sons, hardware, $10,000, partial insurance.

ADVANCE IN LEATHER.

At a meeting of wax and kip leather manufacturers yesterday, it was unanimously resolved that twelve and one-half per cent. be considered a fair advance in finished leather. It also resolved that as a rule, all sales of upper leather be made on a basis of four months' credit.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE CAUSE OF THE GREAT FIRE.

Mayor Gaston has appointed Geo. W. Bigelow, Charles G. Greene, Charles S. Storrow, Samuel C. Cobb and Abraham Fisth, a committee to investigate the cause and management of the great fire, in accordance with an order passed by Council.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR HARVARD COLLEGE.

The contributions for Harvard College up to noon to-day amounted to $60,765.

THE COLISEUM TO BE REMOVED.

A bill was passed by the Legislature to-day for the prompt removal of the Coliseum, which is to be sold at auction Saturday.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The horse disease in Cincinnati is on the decline, and is steadily increasing in Memphis.

—A fire at Genesee, Wis., on Wednesday burned Forentees' packing house. Loss $3,000.

—The old board of directors and officers of the Mississippi & Tennessee Railroad were re-elected on Wednesday.

—A prize fight between Sam Collyer and another bruiser is announced for to-morrow in Little Rock, Arkansas.

—Mike Flynn, a laborer, was run over by a construction train on the Cairo and Fulton Railroad last Wednesday night, and killed.

—S. B. Dutcher, now Supervisor of Internal Revenue, has been appointed by the President pension agent of the widows' agency at New York.

—Two firemen were killed and one wounded on Wednesday by the fall of the walls of a grain storehouse in Brooklyn, which was burned a few days ago.

—Boenzre & Fortenbaugh's colliery, at Big Mine Run, near Ashland, Pa., was burned on Wednesday. The loss is not stated, but is covered by insurance.

—Henry Vilas, son of Judge Vilas, of Madison, Wis., was found dead in his bed at the New Hall House, in Milwaukee, yesterday—probably from heart disease.

—From the official statements of the shipments of wool to Boston, and the sales made there, it is estimated that not more than two million pounds were lost by the fire of the 10th inst.

—It is believed that Assistant Secretary Richardson will not succeed Boutwell in the Treasury, but remain only long enough in office to enable the President to choose a permanent Secretary.

—John W. Fitzsimmons and James H. Bostley, of Meredith's Ford, Md., quarreled about the location of a fence line, and Bostley shot Fitzsimmons twice. The latter fatally stabbed Bostley.

—In Westfield, Mass., on Wednesday evening, Albert Smith, a railroad employe, fired seven shots at one Sackett and Miss Bates, probably fatally wounding both. Jealousy was the cause. Smith fled.

—The Pacific Mail Company announces the receipt of a dispatch from San Diego, stating that the Constitution passed there on Wednesday with the Arizona in tow, and may be expected at San Francisco to-morrow.

—The Comptroller of the Currency, it is said, will recommend the repeal of the law requiring the circulation to be withdrawn to the amount of twenty-five million dollars in States having an excess of its redistribution, and in States having a deficiency; also, the continuance of the present system of reserves, without alteration.

THE CHICAGO Tribune says the next House of Representatives will not differ much from its predecessors, if it should be one of great promise. Why should it differ very greatly, except for the better? This will be its peculiarity.

ITALY cries out for the world's charity. The desolation by flood along the banks of the Po has driven from their homes more than 20,000 families, as many as were rendered homeless by the Chicago fire. Houses, barns, crops, and cattle have been swept away, and the distress is immense and everywhere increasing.

THE Post seems to think that we were of opinion that Grant's popularity, in this State, was confined to pronounced Republicans. This is an error. We have repeatedly expressed our belief that he was popular among the more moderate and reasonable Democracy. As between him and Mr. Greeley, we think even radical Democrats, in many instances, preferred Grant.

THE "endorsement" of the leading Liberals by their home States must be flattering to them. Sumner's State gives 73,000 majority for Grant; Grows's and Curtin's, 137,000 majority for Grant: Trumbull's State gives 55,000 majority for Grant; Fenton's State gives 53,000 majority for Grant; Greeley's native State votes decidedly against him, and Brown's and Schurz's State is uncomfortably close.

IT is now reported, that in place of one vacancy in Congress from this State, two will occur. Judge Mercur, who has just been elected a Supreme Court Judge, will resign the first week in December, in order to take his seat upon the bench at that time, and Mr. John V. Creeley, of the Second, Philadelphia, District, it is thought will not return on account of certain charges against him. Special elections will therefore probably be held to fill these vacancies.

ONE of the celebrated Cherokee land cases has been finally decided in favor of the purchaser. It will be remembered that the Cherokee reservation was abandoned by the tribe, who took their slaves and joined the rebels in the late war. There being a clause in the treaty with our Government which made rebellion a cause of forfeiture, a large number of persons settled on the abandoned reservation, and claimed it as against subsequent purchasers, from the United States. The Supreme Court, on appeal, affirms the right of the purchasers.

OUR NEIGHBOR of the Post seems to be so deeply interested in the Credit Mobilier business, that we are gratified to inform it that when Congress meets the House will probably investigate that subject. The motion on the subject will come from the Republican side, and it is generally anticipated that if any body is implicated it will be found that some of the most prominent Democratic members will fare the worst. It is somewhat significant that since the election none of the Democratic organs seem to be very anxious for an investigation on the subject, much as they talked about it a few weeks ago.

WE ARE greatly relieved by the intelligence that after all, President Thiers has not resigned. We are not informed whether an additional count of noses is to be made, but presume that an emollient will be provided in the address to be made in reply to his. It is sad to think of the nervousness that unfortunate vote has caused. Hereafter the members of the Assembly must remember that a vote is a very important thing, and that they must be particularly careful not to vote wrongly when President Thiers is the subject of the ballot. It really is a great pity that this nonsense about resigning cannot be driven out of the poor old creature's head. True his resignation would prove a serious matter, but for this very reason, he should withhold all threats regarding it.

THE New York Board of Health sounds a note of warning concerning the reappearance of small-pox as cold weather sets in, but fails to point out the chief source of danger to be avoided. As in the spring the epidemic began to subside because windows were opened to free ventilation and infected winter clothing was laid aside, so at the approach of the cold season woolen garments and bed-clothes are brought out from chests in which they have been for months secluded from air or light, doubtless in many instances bringing with them the contagion which they absorbed last year. This occurs principally of course, among the poorer classes, whose scanty diet and ill-ventilated rooms render them more susceptible to the action of the prison, while their crowded quarters insure a rapid spread of the disease.

WE PUBLISH, in another column, a communication relating to the pardoning power. The subject is an exceedingly important one, and we hope the Constitutional Convention will bestow upon it the attention it deserves. We are decidedly of the opinion that the pardoning power should be taken out of the Governor's hands, and a Court of Pardons created, which shall hold regular sessions at fixed intervals. In saying this, we do not mean to reflect on Governor Geary, as we believe him to have judiciously used the power conferred upon him. In all instances, so far as we have observed, he has carefully and conscientiously investigated the merits of every case submitted to his consideration, and his judgment has been accurate and wise. We would have the Governor a member of the Court of Pardons, and its presiding officer, but not the sole arbiter of fate to imprisoned men. Among other reasons for this, the demand upon the time of the Governor, under the present system, is very serious; the class of influences brought to bear upon him, could not well be used toward a court. More than all, a pardon should be regarded as a judicial transaction, and hence should emanate from a court. We may consider this subject more elaborately, soon.

IT MIGHT be very naturally supposed that the election would take some of the overweening conceit out of such individuals as Tilton, but not so. He is out in a very long article, approbating his course during the canvass, affirming that he never spoke ungenerously of any person involved in the canvass, while he was the subject of gross abuse. Those who heard his speech in the Academy of Music will remember some of his extravagant utterances. Speaking of the corruption of the carpet-bag governments, he described the contents of a conjurer's box, but said he had seen into a carpet-bag at Washington more wonderful than that—a carpet-bag that contained Seneca stone, gift houses, fast horses, flasks of Bourbon, bottles of whisky, two dozens Dents, ten State governments and $150,000,000. There were two great bags in history; Judas' bag of Sacred History and the bag of them who rob their country. Here is the President of the United States, the elected Chief Magistrate of forty millions of people, a man who stands this day, higher in the affections of the American people than any other living man, compared to Judas Iscariot. There were other equally gross allusions, the family Bible of the President being called up, to give point to a charge of nepotism. Yet this person, the defender of the Woodhulls, spoke ungenerously of no one!

IT has been exceedingly difficult to determine whether Boston desired aid or not, because of its heavy losses by fire. It was reported that while the merchants who were burned out did not wish aid, there were many poor sewing girls who were in need. If the following from a Providence journal may be accepted as correct, there is no need, if all the firms are doing as well as the one referred to: "Macullar, Williams & Parker, burned out, were and are a very heavy clothing concern, employing a large number of sewing women. These women decline to accept their wages for their last week's work, thinking that the aggregate sum might be acceptable to the firm, considering their heavy losses. The firm turn round to Miss Jennie Collins and tell her to send to them any work girls, whether heretofore employed by them or not, who might be in need, and they would provide for them. And they further advertised that their pay-roll would be made up on Monday as usual, and requested their employes to come and take their pay. Truly the old Massachusetts grit has not yet run out, despite the statistics. Meanwhile, admiring the self-sustaining spirit and power of Bostonians, we hold ourselves, as does the country, ready to do what we can for them when they will allow us to do anything. Our respect for their pluck will not chill our hearts or restrain our hands." This is good sentiment, and we trust the hand of liberal sympathy will not be withheld, even if there are such noble souls in Boston.

PRESIDENT GRANT has finally settled the controversy over the Philadelphia post office by appointing Mr. Fairman, the chief clerk and treasurer under General Bingham. This determines the fact that the President proposes, where the public good requires it, to enforce the Civil Service Reform. The motives under which he acts show, just what his friends have always claimed, that he is a man of pure and honest purposes. His party had made a public commitment to civil service reform, and he proposes to honestly carry out the promise made. Just as, when first nominated, the policy enunciated at Chicago,—being the honest collection of revenue and the steady reduction of the public debt, he carried out the promise, so now, having announced civil service reform, the President purposes to make the promise good. This is in keeping with his character. Despite the affirmations of the Democratic press to the contrary, he has always been sincerely friendly to a reform of the Civil Service, and, so far as he could, he has proceeded in that direction. Congress hampered him, and considerable time and labor was spent, in elaborating rules. These have been amended and changed, being found impracticable at certain points, but gradually the system has assumed shape and definiteness, and the President is determined to enforce it. This is the precise meaning of the Philadelphia appointment. Mr. Fairman, appointed as he has been, under peculiar circumstances, becomes the experiment of the wisdom of the new method, and it is hoped that he will so conduct the affairs of the office committed to his charge as not to reflect disagreeably upon the system adopted. His administration, if successful, will go far toward breaking down the existing prejudice against the reform.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Yesterday was what might be termed "proposition day" in the Constitutional Convention. Among these is one to make the term of Governor four years, and ineligible to re-election as his own successor; another to make the term of Members of Assembly two, and of Senators, four years; and even female suffrage is proposed. Thus it will be seen that the Convention is likely to be compelled to consider some of the most modern questions of the time. The Standing Committees were not announced, and thus the real work of the Convention is delayed.

We trust the Convention will not, as is proposed, refuse to publish its debates. It would prove a serious omission indeed, were this done. The debates serve to illustrate and explain the true meaning of the Convention, and will show just what construction must be placed on any particular article in the instrument. The debates of the Convention in 1837–38 are regarded by lawyers as invaluable, defining, as they do, the real interpretation of obscure language. It is impossible to so construct so important a document as to not leave room for doubt, here and there, over the real meaning of the framers of the Constitution. The expense involved in the publication is trifling, compared with the advantages that will follow. There is an economy that is wise, and that which is unwise. It will be true economy, as well as wisdom, to publish the reports referred to.

OUR COMMERCIAL MARINE.

The coming session of Congress will afford an opportunity for some definite legislative action for the revival of our commercial marine, and we hope the occasion will be wisely improved. Our representative in Congress, General Negley, has made a specialty of this subject for several years past, but his efforts have not been productive of practical results, for the reason, we incline to think, that they were in advance of the general intelligence on the subject. We have not his speeches at hand, but our memory of their essential points is, that they proposed either a discrimination in duties in favor of American vessels, or a direct tonnage subsidy. Either plan aimed at the same result—the conferment of certain advantages that would enable American vessels to compete successfully with foreign bottoms in their rates of freight. It was thought that by thus subsidizing our shipping the building of vessels would be stimulated, and our lost prestige, in time, restored.

Had this policy been adopted a year or two ago, it would no doubt have stimulated ship building, and an emergency which is now close upon us, would have found us fully prepared. The simple reason why the ordinary commercial influences have not stimulated ship building in American ports is, that there has not been since the rebellion, a demand for increased shipping. That is, the vessels transferred to the British flag, other foreign vessels and steamers, have been sufficient for the freight traffic of the world. As a result, freights have been low, and few vessels made more than their current expenses. Hence few vessels have been built in American ports, simply because it would not pay. Now there is a suddenly increased demand for shipping for freighting purposes, and the demand seems likely to continue. It is caused by the disturbed commercial and agricultural relations of the world. It is probable that we shall be called upon to supply iron for the European demand, and it is perfectly certain that large quantities of grain and breadstuffs must be exported for the next few years. Hence the demand.

The direction in which shipping is chiefly used has changed very greatly within the past few years, and conditions have developed that render this one of the most difficult questions we have. For example, the China and oriental trade, which once employed a large fleet of swift sailing ships, and which centered at New York, has, by the construction of the Pacific Railroad, been shifted to the port of San Francisco, and transferred to the steamers of the Pacific Mail Company. Thus a great volume of trade, both for this country and Europe, has been taken from one ocean and transferred to another. The use of steamers, too, has neutralized sailing vessels. Aside from tonnage capacity, one steamer is equal to at least three sailing vessels, because of its superior swiftness. Hence the broad question arises, is there an existing need for so large a fleet of vessels, as in the days of sailing craft. Doubtless not,—yet there is another inquiry, and that is, why may not American vessels rank others, let them be sail vessels or steamers? We answer, there ought to be no reason against it now.

The trouble that has existed centered in the fact that iron vessels are entering into use, and hitherto, could be built more cheaply on the Clyde than in this country. One result of this cheapness was, that a Clyde built steamer represented less capital than one American built, and hence could afford to take freights at lower rates, and yet return an interest on the capital invested. Our difficulty is in iron, and probably will be obviated for years to come by the increased price of iron in England and the Continent. The price of labor has also advanced there, so that now the two countries are on a par in respect to cost of building, and are likely to remain so. This is what chiefly gives the new phase to the entire question. The time of our opportunity has come, and if promptly availed of, we may again recover our lost prestige on the ocean.

The important question for Congress, is, whether there is a necessity, in the altered relations of things, for subsidizing American shipping, or whether it is best to leave the entire subject to the natural laws of trade. It is entirely certain that there is great activity in ship building, in several of the eastern ports. If subsidies should be granted, it ought to be with the view of stimulating present activity, and not as a permanent system. Hence tonnage releases, and schemes of that nature, should not be proposed, but a direct subsidy of a certain number of dollars for each ton a vessel would measure would be preferable. Even this ought to be limited in time, so that the revival of our shipping may be compressed within the next two years. As an offset to this tonnage subsidy, the government might establish certain claims on vessels thus aided, in the event of war. A system embodying these suggestions might be made of great value, and would certainly be cheaper and better than the building of heavy, cumbrous, useless war vessels. At any rate, the subject is deserving of serious attention. The time of our opportunity is at hand, and in some manner, we should seek to regain our lost prestige in the ocean. If it can be done, by leaving the building of vessels to be governed by the natural laws of trade, very well. But if a carefully guarded subsidy system is needed, there should be no hesitancy in granting the proper legislation.

THE PARDONING POWER.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

At a recent meeting of the Allegheny County Prison Society, as reported by the press, an important subject was discussed. The exact character, extent and results of the discussion have not been made public. The question, I presume, was the limit, use and abuse of the pardoning power. This has long been a grave and very important subject—one that links itself with the very vital forces of society, law and justice. It touches the security, integrity and durability of our social fabric. It takes upon itself to determine, not merely a personal question of ease or convenience, but a broad fundamental principle of criminal law as applied to crime punishment. The power sits in the chair of sovereignty to pass upon the most solemn utterances of the judiciary, either to confirm or reverse that decision which has been reached through patient effort and enquiry. The right or power to release a man from a duly enunciated sentence of the law should therefore be deemed most sacred and exercised most conscientiously. It is no small matter for the chief executive of the State, who may be away from the place and circumstances of the case, to say to a Judge, who pronounces the penalty of the law, you have made a mistake and I will correct it; you have closed the prison doors, I will open them; you have legally deprived of certain privileges, immunities and liberties, I will give back that which you have taken away. No chief executive, true to his official oath, and awake to the responsibilities of his acts, will exercise this prerogative without the most anxious deliberation. He will hesitate to vacate and nullify legal justice. He would not mar the majesty of the law, nor bring its deterrent forces into contempt by a frivolous interposition, simply because he dare do so. It is then a sense of truth to himself, respect for public justice and reverence for the laws which must ever be present in the mind of the executive when deliberating upon the numerous applications which come before him. It is no sinecure. It is doubtless one of the most grave and trying duties which the Governor of our State has to perform. He dare not permit mere feeling and sympathy and sentimentality to control his action, appeals of friends, urgent claims of politicians and the tears and entreaties of mothers, wives and children must have a calm and respectful audience, and yet stern justice and duty stand in their place and ask a hearing as well. Shall he yield because of earnest and prolonged and repeated applications? Shall importunity be the motive for releasing the offender? Shall the wealth, respectability and social status of the urgents be the sole ground of affirmative action? No; there is a claim above and beyond these. Justice, truth and duty, blind to tears and deaf to solicitation, bring the executive into a sore dilemma. Is he uniformly to be censured and severely criticised, because in yielding to all the thumb-screw appliances pressing upon his patience, nervous system and official prerogative, he sometimes errs on the side of sympathy? He stands alone. It is the defence of one man sustaining the attack of the many. If he had others in council, who were equally clothed with prerogative and responsibility, then the burdens would press more lightly, and results might be different.

But of particulars in this matter, more at another time, from

BEHIND THE BARS.

A Crisis in Rome.

In a few days the Italian Parliament will be opened, and one of the first acts of the session will be the passage of stringent laws for the suppression of all religious orders within the jurisdiction of Victor Emanual. The law of guarantees passed by Cavour and confirmed at the time of the occupation of Rome, granting immunity to religious orders, is to be revoked, and the outlines of a new scheme have been made public which must precipitate a conflict in which the Government will be pitted against the power of the Vatican. The King has publicly announced that war against every religious order would be relentlessly waged by Parliament, and despatches state that at the present time the city is in a state of dire confusion and anarchy, conflicts between the followers of the King and the adherents of the Pope being of daily occurrence.

DR. PHILIP SCHAFF has recently returned from Europe, where he traveled extensively, and visited many prominent ministers of England, Scotland, France, Italy, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, and Russia, in the interest of the Evangelical Alliance, which meets in New York in the fall of 1873. Dr. Schaff has just given a statement of the objects of the Alliance, and of the result of his labors. The Evangelical Alliance was organized in 1864, to promote Christian unity among Protestant denominations throughout the world. It has, thus far, held five General Conferences—at London, Paris, Geneva, Berlin, and Amsterdam, respectively. The sixth was to have been held at New York in 1870, but was prevented by the Franco-Prussian war. The Assembly in 1873 will be a large and notable one. Over three hundred foreign ministers will be present. Among these will be: From Scotland—the Rev. Thomas Guthrie, D. D., William Arnold, David Brown, and Professors Ranney and Blakie; from England—the Dean of Canterbury, the Rev. Drs. Leeds, Angus, Harrison, Ritchie, and others; from Ireland—the Rev. Mr. Stevenson; from France—Dr. Pressense, M. Morau, and Pere Hyacinthe; from Holland—Van Oosterzee; from Italy—Father Gavazzi, and others from Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, and Russia. The Evangelical Alliance is, as will be seen, in no sense, sectarian, is composed of men of eminent piety and ability, and should be the means of accomplishing much good.

IT IS singular to a mere amateur, unversed in technical art matters, that the French painter Meissionier should command such high and uniform prices for his works. They are wonderful for their minute fidelity, but to the uneducated eye there seems to be but little that is so eminently attractive about them. Neither do they charm the connoisseur by the story they tell. A "Cavalier," two men drinking, a single figure that might be labelled with half a dozen different titles, each one of which would be equally appropriate, constitute the usual subjects of Meissionier. Yet we see at the sale of the Belmont collection, that this painter heads the list. His "Cavalier" sold for six thousand dollars, while the "Diogenes of Gerome," a celebrated picture, brought only five thousand and eight hundred; the "Return from Pasture," by Rosa Bonheur, only five thousand, and the works of Zamacois, Achenbach, Calame, and others, did not fetch three thousand. The Meissionier sold at the Belmont sale is the fourth that has been offered at auction in this country. Three of these were withdrawn for want of bidders whose purses were long enough to purchase them.

PERSONAL.

GOVERNOR HOFFMAN will go to Europe in January, 1872, to remain absent two years.

THE widow of the late Gen. William H. Sumner died on Saturday last at her house near Boston.

BISHOP COXE, of New York, has gone to Hayti, there to organize a diocese of the P. E. Church.

IT is said Vinnie Ream, the sculptress, will bust Henry Ward Beecher. Woodhull tried it and has come to grief.

TWENTY Roman Catholic Bishops have gone forth from the Diocese of Cincinnati, a greater number than from any other diocese in the United States.

THE three hundredth anniversary of the death of John Knox is to be commemorated on a grand scale under the auspices of the Scottish Reformation Society.

MR. SPURGEON'S SISTER is preaching at Willingham, Cambridgeshire, England, with such success that the police authorities there have expressed their thanks to her for effecting a decrease in the number of criminal cases.

CHAS. RUOFF attempted suicide at Detroit, last Tuesday morning, by firing three pistol loads into his mouth, the bullets in each case passing upward through the roof of the mouth and lodging, and yet he is likely to recover.

WHEN Monroe was elected President the second time his opponent, John Quincy Adams, got but one electoral vote. Let John Quincy Adams, Jr., take courage. He came within one of getting as many votes as his grandfather.

SAMUEL D. BRADFORD, a pioneer of Van Buren township, Montgomery county, Ohio, died on Monday evening. His father settled in that township in 1801, when he was himself but two years old, and he had resided there ever since.

MRS. STANTON says the American men are the noblest and handsomest of any country she has ever visited, and that if the girls would cultivate their minds and learn to work with their hands, that they, too, would be more beautiful and marriageable.

MRS. TOZIER, of Athens, Me., has reached the unusual age of one hundred and seven years. She is able to converse freely. When she was one hundred and four years old she knit a pair of stockings. She is living with her second daughter, aged eighty years.

MISS OLIVE RISLEY SEWARD, adopted daughter of the late William H. Seward, and to whom he bequeathed fifty thousand dollars and the proceeds of his forthcoming book of travel, is to remove to Fredonia, New York, where she will henceforth live with her father.

RHODE ISLAND has a yacht builder who is perfectly blind, but who has plenty of work on hand, and is carrying on large operations with vigor. He is now occupied in the construction of a yacht eighty feet in length by twenty in depth, to measure one hundred tons, and is building it under his immediate supervision.

DR. MERLE D'AUBIGNE, who recently died at Geneva, Swwitzerland, was found dead in his bed in the morning. The day before he went to chapel and took the sacrament, and in the evening had family prayers in his own house. He had not complained of illness. His death was in many respects similar to that of Dr. Lieben.

THE wife of a German dancing-master, in Louisville, Ky., drew $1,250 in a lottery and gave it to her husband. He took it, and with the money in his pocket and tears in his eyes, he bid her adieu, and went to Germany, returning in a couple of months with another wife. And now wife No. 1 is impatient to interview the dancing-master with a poker.

BAKER W. PECK, a soldier of 1812, and a pioneer of Springfield, Ohio, where he settled in 1817, died there, two or three days ago, in the eighty-second year of his age. He first took his family to Cincinnati, descending the Ohio in a flat-boat, in the year above named, and leaving them there made his first journey hence to Clark county on foot.

THE coffin of the recently deceased Archduchess Sophia, mother of the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, has been desecrated. Thieves effected an entrance into the imperial vault in the Church of the Capuchins, and took from the coffin all the valuable ornaments, including the heavy silver plate on which the name of the princess was engraved.

AN English lady of family and fortune, about thirty years of age, has bestowed her hand and heart upon a youth of 17, whose occupation has hitherto been attending the "leader" of an omnibus and attaching drags to the wheels of carriages. The lady was a district visitor, and happening to call upon the lad's mother, who was an invalid, she was so struck with his devotion, that she thought it would be a good thing to have in the family.

AT San Diego, California, on the evening of November 5, an enterprising merchant of foreign birth, and a batchelor, issued cards of invitation to his friends, and celebrated his naturalization as an American citizen in the manner of a wedding festival. The dinner hall of a hotel was decorated with American flags for the occasion, and a ball attended by the first society of the place, and an elegant supper gave zest to the affair.

THE Albany Evening Journal publishes a correspondence between the recent rival candidates for Congressman at Large in New York, which is noticeable for the kindly feeling exhibited by each gentleman. Mr. Cox speaks with satisfaction of the fact that he spoke no unfair word of his opponent during the campaign, and Mr. Tremain responds with assurances of the "kindest personal feelings toward a gentleman so universally esteemed for his genial qualities" as his distinguished opponent.

THE Springfield Republican says Senator Sumner writes to a friend in Newport as follows: "Friends urge that I should postpone my return, and thus receive a further lease of rest, but I cannot satisfy myself without returning. My health has improved visibly and palpably. I can walk now, as I could not on my arrival, but I find what the doctor calls my limitations! I have not read an American newspaper since I sailed out of Boston harbor, nor have I concerned myself except with sights, society and pictures."

A NEW YORK correspondent says that Henry Ward Beecher is accustomed to set apart certain Sundays in the year for the baptism of children. Due notice is given from the pulpit, and a goodly array of little ones generally are presented before the altar. Last Sunday was appointed for this service. Among the children was a nice, curley-headed little fellow, and Mr. Beecher proceeded with the service: "This child, whose name is Horace Greeley, I bap——" the announcement was greeted with universal laughter, which drowned the rest of the sentence. The mirth was instantaneous, unpremeditated and irresistible. One lady, whose husband evidently did not vote for Horace, was heard to exclaim, "What a shame, and such a nice-looking little fellow, too!"

DISPATCHES recently received from Gen. Sickles, the minister of the United States at Madrid, report the pardon by the King of Spain of Julius Krzywoszynski, sometimes written Kryke, who was undergoing a sentence of ten years' imprisonment in Cuba for his participation in the Ryan expedition from Colon to Punta Rosa in the early part of the year 1871. Kryke, who was a Pole by birth, rendered distinguished service as an officer in the volunteer army of the United States in the rebellion, and was naturalized as a citizen of the United States. For his participation in the expedition against Cuba he was at first sentenced to death. The sentence, on the intercession of Mr. Fish, was commuted to ten years' imprisonment, and this act of clemency has now been completed by a full pardon accorded by the King.

A Remedy for the Chicken Disease.

Some two years ago, while living South, I lost some 250 head of a flock of about 400 fowls. The symptoms were, first, drowsiness, loss of appetite, pale comb, dropping of the wings; then a running discharge from the nose, swollen eyes, and a mucous discharge from the nose and mouth, which adhered in a yellow crust or scab on the tongue, bill, eyes and head, and swelling all to an unnatural size, with a total loss of appetite from the fowl and inability to swallow corn. After trying many remedies, I found the remainder of my entire flock diseased, and adopted the following remedy, and a perceptible improvement took place among them in less than two days, and in a week my flock had recovered: I had two wooden drinking troughs; in one was placed a lump of assafœtida, in the other a lump of tar. The poultry house was kept clean, and a small quantity of powdered sulphur mixed in the corn meal mash (warm). The diseased fowl had the discharge removed and the parts painted with tincture of iodine, and a feather with some on run down its throat; and a quarter of a teaspoonful of castor oil was administered, and in two hours from that time a pill of powdered sulphur and tar, in equal quantities, was given. The pill was about the size of a cranberry. The pill was administered twice a day, and the fowls kept warm. For turkeys I used a pill about the size of a hazel nut. My neighbors adopted the same remedy, and with similar success.—R. P. S. in N. Y. World.

Iron and Wooden Ships

The relative merits of iron and wooden ships are now being warmly discussed by leading commercial papers on either side of the Atlantic. Iron ships were introduced less than fifteen years ago, and it will be remembered that there were men high in maritime authority who predicted that their introduction would drive all wooden ships from the ocean. The idea was based on the data that an iron vessel would carry considerable more than a wooden vessel of the same outside measurement, and would last much longer, some of them being rated for twenty years. A well-built wooden vessel will last from twelve to fifteen years, and the necessary repairs can be made upon her in a short space of time and at a small expense. Wooden vessels, too, are considered safer than iron ones, especially in case of a collision. There will always be differences of opinion, however, upon the relative merits of iron and wooden vessels. Many well informed persons predict that iron ship building will never become popular in this country, inasmuch as wood can be used to much advantage, besides being cheaper and more serviceable. It is a noticeable fact that most of the ship yards on the New England coast are pressed with orders for building wooden vessels.

The District of Columbia.

The valuation of the taxable property in the District of Columbia, under the recent assessment for this year, amounts to $85,960,863, or $73,132,663 for the city of Washington, $6,178,588 for Georgetown, and $6,649,612 for the county. The valuation in Washington is divided into $12,014,153 for ground, and $31,118,610 for improvements, including buildings. The valuation for 1871 amounted to $74,845,698, so that the increase in the assessments in 1872 reaches $11,115,165. The chief increase, however, is derived from Washington city, where, in 1871, the valuation amounted to $62,421,331, divided into ground, $34,639,861, and improvements $27,781,470. The increase in Washington city in one year is, therefore, $10,711,332. The standard of valuation adopted by the Assessors is the current cash market price, as derived from recent sales of real estate in each vicinity.

Most Important Notice.

We publish below the testimonial of Mr. James Irvin, one of our best known citizens, and a gentleman whose word may be confidently relied on, to the efficacy of Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, a cheap medicine for coughs and recent lung diseases, which Dr. K. has prepared expressly to meet the thousands of cases that are heard coughing daily through our streets, every one of which could be cured in less than forty-eight hours, and at a cost of 75 cents. Who would cough through seventy-five hours at a cent an hour, when Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup is as sure to cure them as night follows day.

DR. KEYSER:—You have asked my opinion about your cough medicine, and I can cheerfully say that I have used your Pectoral Syrup on one occasion during last spring. I thought at one time that I was surely going to have some serious pulmonary disease, as I coughed up large quantities of matter. I found my disease would not yield to anything else, as I had tried various remedies and several of the best doctors without benefit. After the first dose of your Pectoral, I received quite a relief, and had I not used the whole bottle until I was entirely cured.

JAMES IRVIN.

Offers at private sale, on its special terms—Ten Payments, No Interest, and Life Insurance without charge, a few very fine Building Sites at HOMESTEAD on the P. C. & V. R. R., and at NORTH HOMESTEAD, in the Twenty-second ward, Pittsburgh.
The Company takes this occasion to announce that it has secured a large and very handsome Property which will be known as Homestead Terrace,
A level plateau on the A. V. R. R., and Wildwood avenue two miles this side of Verona borough. It is the first desirable outlet on this line, and will be a convenient and delightful rural home for persons engaged in the manufactories of the upper wards, from whence the commuted fare will hardly exceed that on the street railway. It has been secured on terms that will bring "quarter acres" within the reach of those with very limited means, and will be ready for market at an early day.
ALSO,
over 200 Acres, 3½ miles from the city, on Pan Handle Railroad, which is designed to lay out in the similitude of an Ornamental Park, with avenues conforming to the natural surface, and Lots, in size and shape in harmony with their positions and surroundings, thus avoiding all unsightly and expensive grading, and preserving and forever adding to the natural beauty and rural character of the place, which will be known as Homestead Park,
and as the chosen residence of those who appreciate a
BEAUTIFUL HOME.
As soon as the proper plans can be arranged, this property will be opened to settlement and will be sold for a fraction of the price demanded in other localities equally distant from business.
It Will Pay Every One

AUCTION SALES.

COTTON MILL
FOR SALE.
On Tuesday, Dec. 3, 1872,
AT 10 A. M., AT THE COURT HOUSE.

I shall by virtue of an order of the District Court of this county, offer

AT PUBLIC SALE

That valuable manufacturing property in Allegheny, consisting known as the

Anchor Cotton Mills

This property consists of a lot fronting 180 feet on Robinson street, and extending back on Balkam street 260 feet to Lacock street, on which is erected the large five story substantially built brick Cotton Mill, together with engine house, &c., in adjoining building, all in good repair. The machinery consists in part of about 10,000 spindles, (including 4 pairs self-acting mules), 271 looms. The greater portion of the machinery is of improved pattern, all in good order and now in operation. On an adjoining lot, bounded by Balkam, Lacock and Darragh streets, is erected a large fire-proof cotton warehouse, with capacity of over 1,000 bales uncompressed cotton, stable, &c.

As an inducement to parties wishing to purchase, the terms of sale have been made very liberal. One-fourth of the purchase money to be paid as follows: $10,000 cash, and the rest in equal payments at 12, 18 and 24 months with interest, for which approved endorsed notes shall be given, and the remaining three-fourths of the purchase money are to be paid in 5 equal annual installments, the first to be paid in three years from the date of sale, with interest, and to be secured by bond and mortgage on the premises. Possession given in 30 days from sale. Insurance after sale to be kept up by the purchaser for the benefit of the present owners.

For further particulars address or call at the office on the premises.

JOHN B. JACKSON,
oc 1 Commissioner.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 21, 1872.

There is no change of importance to note in local money matters. The bank managers report a continued falling off in the demand for loans, and some of the most candid and shrewdest amongst them manifest an apprehension that if the present bearings are indicative of what is to come, and the demand continues to decrease during the next thirty days as it has done during the past ten, that before the first of January there will be little if any complaint as to scarcity of money. As has been already remarked, the American people are wonderfully accommodating. If they cannot get a whole loaf, they readily adjust their appetites for a half. And so with their business; if they are not able for lack of means or other reasons to push along as fast as they would like, they accept the situation, and do the best they can under the controlling circumstances.

The late money pressure has done Pittsburgh much harm, more than the unthinking portion of her community have an idea of. Arrangements during the latter part of the last summer were being made to largely increase the number of furnaces, rolling mills and steel works, and other manufactories in this locality. Scarce a week passed by during the summer but what men of wealth, science and energy visited this city from Europe and other places, with an idea of locating here, and with their means and skill not only establish themselves, but add in numbers and prosperity to the Iron City. But now all this is different. Mismanagement is the cause. Some one is to blame. Who is it? Hither the tide of the empire was winging its way, but the ugly trade winds have driven it back, but only for a time. This generation may pass away without the sight, but Pittsburgh, in importance, wealth, numbers and influence must become one of the first, is not the first city in the world. Nature has given to it advantages no other place possesses, which in time cannot fail in having it occupy the position which these advantages entitle it to. In common with the balance of the country, it must suffer to a greater or less extent from money pressures or other annoyances. Unanimity and confidence are what is wanted here. With a larger development of these feelings, but little trouble would be felt in Pittsburgh from money pressures. Its citizens could drive ahead, and what might annoy others could be made of benefit in many instances to them.

Two weeks from next Monday Congress meets. Would it not be well for the merchants and manufacturers here to have another meeting, exchange views, make suggestions, and pass proper resolutions? The action taken here might be followed by meetings in other cities, and in this way Congress might be stimulated to activity and be able to form some idea as to what the wants of the people are and the best and quickest way to supply them. Emigration, which had reached its highest point during the past summer, and was deemed of so much importance in the way of settling up the undeveloped territory, is said to be rapidly falling off, and this also is attributed to the monetary troubles. The inducements which past prosperity held out to people of other countries is suspended, therefore emigration grows less, and the benefits, if any benefits, accruing therefrom is in like proportion diminished.

In local securities and real estate there is but little doing.

The following information is from our Philadelphia correspondents, Messrs. Gilbough, Bond & Co.: "It is currently reported (in spite of the protest of the plucky Bostonians), that the Secretary will use his discretion in affording relief by floating more currency, and the increase of a million in his bond purchase to-day tends to confirm the impression."

NEW YORK, November 21, 1872.

Money stringent; 7 gold to 1-10 and interest. The Treasury called for ten per cent. of the deposits placed with National Banks in October. Sterling firm; 108⅜@108¾ for 60 days, and 110 for sight. Gold stronger, opening at 113, but after the Government sale advanced to and closed at 113⅛@113⅝. Loans 3 to 5 for carrying. Clearings about $50,000,000. The Government disbursed $421,000. The Assistant Treasurer awarded one million at 113 12-100@113 29-100. Payments for this gold are made direct into the treasury, so that the money market, instead of gaining, loses $200,000 in legal tenders. Government bonds steady. Southern securities quiet and steady. Stocks were generally strong throughout the day, with Northwestern common absorbing the attention of the street. The stock opened at 95, declined to 90⅛, sold up to par, and closed at 98⅝. It is entirely in the hands of the clique. It loaned early in the day at ¼ for use, subsequently loaning flat. Pacific Mail and Erie were next in point of interest; ¼ was bid for the latter for use ten days. The market at the close showed a slight reaction from the highest point of the day. The Milwaukee & St. Paul Company to-day gave notice to the Board of the issue of about sixteen thousand shares of common stock to pay for new roads.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 21, 1872.

Trade in some branches of business is improving, and some articles, in consequence of a temporary scarcity, are appreciating in value; however, as a general thing there is no material change to make in quotations. The horse disease is rapidly abating, judging from the increased number on the streets, hence, this draw-back, will in all probability, soon be entirely removed; money matters, however, are still working very close, rendering collections very difficult to make, and this, of course is not without its effect in restricting business and retarding operators.

APPLES—The demand is steadily increasing and the market is firmer with an advancing tendency; quotations may be given at $2,@2,50 per bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—45@50 cts per gallon.

BAGGING—Penn mill, two bushel, 38 cts, two and one-half bushels, 45; three bushels, 55; Allegheny two bushel, 36 cts.

BEANS—$2,50@3 per bushel.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is quoted at $8¼@9 per bbl. or 4¼ to 4½c per lb.

BROOM CORN—There is a fair jobbing trade, but prices are unchanged; 4 to 7 cts, as to quality.

BUTTER—Is coming in more freely, but with a steady demand, prices, especially for the best grades, are fully maintained; prime to choice roll 25@28. Low grade butter is not much inquired for.

CANDLES—Mould, 12; Stearine, 15; Star, 22.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands, 23¼@23½ for round lots, and 1@2 cts additional in a small way.

CHESTNUTS—$3,50@4 per bushel.

CIDER—There is some inquiry but not at prices that will justify shipments; $6 per bbl could be realized, but after the producer has paid $2@2,50 for bbls, freight, and other attendant commissions, there is little or nothing left.

CHEESE—The receipts continue liberal, and with a light demand stocks are accumulating though prices are still maintained; prime to choice Goshen, in jobbing way, 16¼@17. Ohio Sweitzer, 15½@16½.

CRANBERRIES—Sackett's and Carey's Belle Berries, $14@15 per bbl. common, $10@12.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$8 per case.

DRIED FRUIT—There is little or nothing doing in dried fruits, and prices are nominal; however, an increased demand soon is anticipated; apples, 4@5 cents; peaches, prime halves, 7@8c, blackberries, 12@13c.

EGGS—The supply of fresh is small, and prices are still maintained; 32 cts. Pickled are selling all the way from 25 to 30c.

FEATHERS—No. 1 live geese may be quoted at 72 to 75 to the trade and 3 to 5c additional for smaller lots.

FLOUR—Is firmer in sympathy with the advance in Wheat, and as the receipts during the past two weeks were light, stocks are somewhat reduced, and this, of course, has a tendency to harden the market; prices, however, are without quotable change; spring wheat, $7,50@8, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas, and $8@8.50 for fair to choice red winter wheat. Rye Flour, $5,50.

GRAIN—There is an improved demand for Wheat, and with a limited supply the market is firmer, though prices are not quotably higher; $1,60@1,65 for common to good red; $1,70@1,75 for amber, and $1,80@1,85 for white—sales of some 9 cars of prime red reported at $1,68. There is not much inquiry for Oats, and the market is generally reported quiet, and quotations may be fairly given at 38@40 cts; the arrivals for sometime past have been small, but the supply appears to be fully equal to meet present requirements. Shelled Corn is quiet and unchanged; 56@58 cts. New Ear Corn, 48@50. Rye is quiet, and, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at 80. Barley is still quoted at 80@85 for common to fair, and 90 for prime—sales of some 7 or 8 cars reported at 83@85.

GROCERIES—Trade is fair and increasing, but there is still plenty of room for improvement. The New York Shipping List, of the 19th, reports Sugars dull and lower—quotes refined goods off ⅛ to ¼ cent, and intimates that still further concessions would be made to effect large sales. The same journal reports Coffee very quiet; low grades in good supply and weak, while choice Rios continue scarce.

SUGARS—Granulated, 13½; Crushed, 13⅜c. Powdered, 13⅜; A Coffee, 12¾; B, 12⅜; Ex. C 12½c. C., 12⅛c.; Chespeake Ex. C., 12⅛; Molasses Sugars, 8¼@10; Porto Rico, 10⅜@11; Demarara, 11¼@11⅜.

COFFEE—Choice Rio 23; Prime 22; Good 21; Fair 20; Java 25 to 26; Mocha 32. Roasted in lb. packages 25 to 26; loose 24½.

RICE—Carolina, 8½@9; Rangoon, 7@7⅜; Patna 8.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 23; Allspice, 18; Cassia, 40; Clover, 30; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—There is a continued good demand, and we can report regular sales of baled, on wharf and track, at $25@30 as to quality—$2@3 additional in small lots.

HONEY—Sales 25@30 cts per lb.

LARD OIL—No. 1 winter strained 78@80 cts, and scarce.

ONIONS—In good supply and quoted at $2,50@3 per bushel.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows, by the car load, 70 cts per bushel; and 75 for small lots. Sweets firmer but unchanged; $3,50@4 per bbl.

POULTRY—Live chickens, 50@60 cents per pair; dressed, 12@14 cts. per lb.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 7½; Sugar cured Shoulders, 10c; Breakfast Bacon, 14c; Rib Sides, 11; Short Rib Sides, 11½; Clear Sides, 12; Sugar Cured Hams, 17½c; Dried Beef, 18 c. Lard, in tierces, 9½c; half bbls, 10⅛c; pails, 11c. Mess Pork, $15,50; Beef Tongues, 7,50 per dozen.

RAGS—Quoted at 3½@3¾ cts.

SEEDS—Flax Seed, $1,95 per bushel.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8 to 8½.

WHISKY—Highwines unchanged; 93@95 cts. per gallon.

WINDOW GLASS—There is a very fair trade; orders are still coming in pretty freely, and prices are firm but unchanged. Following are the card rates, as agreed upon by the manufacturers:

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK.—The market for Scotch Pig shows no change, the sales being only in a jobbing way at about our quotations. American Pig is quiet at previous figures. We hear of no sales. English Rails are quiet at $72@73 for new, and nominally $51 currency for old. In Scrap there has been a lull again, and we hear of only small lots at about $47@50 from yard, and $42@43 from dock. All kinds of Wrought Iron from store have again declined—Oval and Half Round $5 Scroll $10, and Refined Bar and all other kinds $7,50 per ton, bringing ¾ to 2 inch Round and Square Bars, 1 to 6 inches wide, ⅜ to 1 inch thick, to $105, and Scroll $120 to $150 per ton. Russia Sheet is quiet at 15 cents gold for No. 1 Stained and 16 for Sound. Common Sheets are nominally as quoted.—Com. List.

PHILADELPHIA.—Pig Iron is rather dull. Sales of No. 1 foundry at $53@54, and No. at $51. Scotch pig $52. Nails command $6 per keg.

Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, November 21.—Flour firm for good grades; heavy and weak for low grades; superfine, $4,50@5,50. Wheat firm; for fair to prime western red, $1,68@1,70. Rye unchanged. Corn firm; yellow, 65c; mixed western, 64½@65c. Oats firm; white, 45@47c. Petroleum: crude, 19@19½c; refined, 26⅜c. Whisky unchanged.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 21, 1872.

The Crude market remains quiet and unchanged: $4,20@4,25 at Parker. The receipts have been unusually light for some days past, from which it is evident that Pittsburgh is buying very sparingly. Refined is also quiet, but an early revival in the export trade is probable, as stocks in the leading European markets are less than at the corresponding period last year, while the consumption is estimated to be fully seven per cent. greater. Assuming that these data are correct, the aspect of the market is to be regarded as favorable to producers, notwithstanding the present lull in the outward trade.

Wool Market.

BOSTON.—The Shipping List says: That there were 8,695,000 lbs. domestic and 2,234,000 Foreign wool consumed by the fire, also that the bulk of the 2,234,000 lbs. Foreign was Australian, and embraced nearly the entire stock of this description in market. Besides the losses in Wool the loss in Woolens was also very great, and this must also have an important bearing on the staple. The large clothing houses were also within the limits of the fire, and the bulk of their stocks were destroyed, so that the amount of Wool, Woolens and Clothing, swept by the fire, must be equal to near 20,000,000 lbs, Wool. The advance in prices since the fire has been about 10 cts. on Fleece and Pulled, 8 to 10 on California, and 5 to 7 for Cape and Australia. So far as prices are concerned, there is in fact no fixed value. Spring California has been selling from 40 to 45 cents, is held at 50@55; Montevideo is held at 55 cents, that could have been bought before the fire at 42@43. Cape is not offered under 42 cents, and is generally held at 45 cents and upward, 44 cents having been refused for round lots; and it will be some weeks before we have a sufficient stock of Fleece, Pulled and California on which to base a price. The advance, however, on all grades, may be placed at from 5 to 10 cents, and we are satisfied that this advance will be maintained, and later in the season still higher figures. The following sales, with the exception of 300,000 lb. Cape at 37@38 cents, made on Saturday last are, since the fire, 20,000 lbs. No. 1 Ohio, 68½@78; 73,000 lbs. Ohio, 70; 20,000 lbs. Fall California, 42½; 2,500 lbs. scoured, 107; 12,000 lbs. Philadelphia Merino, on private terms, and this description, now held at 70; 5,000 lbs. old super, 70; 7,000 lbs. old X. 70; 3,000 lbs. new super, 70; 60,000 lbs. Noils, 62½; an advance of 20 per cent on previous sales; 172,000 lbs. Australian, 54½; closed early on Monday after the fire; 25,000 lbs. Australian, 50; 40,000 lbs. New Zealand, 62½; 120,000 lbs. Cape, 38@42½, part previous to the fire; 250,000 lbs. Cape, 37; made on Saturday last; 2,000 lbs, Prince Edward Island unwashed Combing, 52½; 10,000 lbs Cape, 42; 97,000 lbs Cape, 42@44; 60,000 lb Entre Rios, 40; 26,000 lbs Cape Pulled, on private terms, now held at 72½; 160,000 lbs Syrian, and 80,000 lbs Chilian, on private terms—in all, 1,199,500 lbs.

NEW YORK.—Both Foreign and Domestic continue in good demand, and prices are again rather higher. A very firm feeling prevails, based upon the increased inquiry and the continued light receipts. Cape is in active request, and sales are reported at an advance of 2½@3 cents. Fleeces are also in favor, but the supply has not been increased, and the stock, as heretofore noticed, remains very light. Mail advices from England report very unsettled markets and lower prices. The effect of the Boston fire upon the markets there, if any, has not yet transpired. The sales comprise 238 bales Cape at 42½ cents; 5,000 lbs do, 41; 150 bales Australian, 57½@62; 70,000 lbs Montevideo, 44@47; 30,000 lbs Fall California, 31; 2,000 lbs Black do, 32½; 28,000 lbs slightly burry do, 24½; 81 bales Spring do, 32½; 9,000 lbs scoured Domestic, 62½@65; 5,000 lbs do, 80@1,05; 2,000 lbs fine unwashed, 38@41; 160 bags Lambs' Pulled, 60@65; 4,000 lbs do, 60; 30,000 lbs extra do, 61; 85,000 lbs Texas, 40@45; 1,500 lbs low Nevada, 34; 15,000 lbs Australian, 50 bags Canada, and 200 bales Spring California, on private terms.—Com. List.

PHILADELPHIA.—There is less doing but prices are well maintained. We quote as follows: Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia XX at 68c; X at 68c; medium (¼ to ½ blood), 68@70c; coarse (¼ blood), 65c; and other Western States, fine (X to XX), 65; medium, 67½c; coarse 60c; common 60c; choice tub washed 70c; fine unwashed 47½c; medium unwashed 50c; coarse burry unwashed 45c; combing unwashed 56@60c; washed combing 75c; Philadelphia No. 1 and super pulled 55c; Philadelphia merino pulled 52@55c; country and Western super pulled 50@52c; country and Western merino pulled 50@53c.—Gazette.

CINCINNATI.—There is considerably more inquiry, both from Eastern and Western trade, caused by the destruction of so large a quantity of Wool by the fire in Boston. Prices are unsettled, as there have been but few transactions as yet; and although prices are 2@3c higher on paper, there is a hesitancy in operating until the market becomes more settled and prices are established. Dealers here are paying for tub washed, 57@60c, fleece-washed, 53@57c; unwashed short, 38@40c; unwashed combing, 42@45c; pulled, 40@42c.—Chronicle.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening, with three feet six inches in the channel. Weather continues cold, and the Allegheny commenced putting out considerable ice yesterday. Business dull, and the prospects are anything but favorable.

No arrivals or departures to report excepting the slackwater packets.

The Juniata for Cincinnati, and the Messenger for St. Louis, will take their departure as soon as the weather and water will permit.

Telegrams report that the Allegheny was nearly closed with ice at Oil City.

—The Louisville Courier in noticing that the canal will likely be closed for 10 or 15 days, says: Ever since the opening of the canal last winter it has been a constant source of annoyance and expense to steamboatmen. A number of boats have been detained for days at a heavy expense, all caused by the non-working of the new gates. Whether or not this is the fault of the officials it is not at this time our province to say. There is one thing, however, we think that is very unjust, and that is the officials charge these boats that have been detained the exorbitant price of fifty cents per ton, after delaying them in that manner. In other words, the boats start out with a promise of getting through the canal, but the canal closes and keeps them back at a considerable loss, which it does not pretend to lighten by a reduction of tolls when it at last lets them through.

—Cotton is now shipped from Shreveport to New Orleans at 87c per bale. Up freights are five and one-third card rates—flour at $4 per barrel, pork $5, whisky $10, bacon per cask $20, sugar per hogshead $30, and measurement freight 80c per foot.

—Baxter J. Butler, well known to all steamboatmen of the olden time, as owner of the wharboat at Vicksburg, Mississippi, died at New Orleans on Wednesday last, and was buried at Vicksburg.

—The last boat on the Upper Mississippi last season was the Viola, which passed Burlington, going down, Nov. 20. The ice commenced running Nov. 22, and on the 29th, at 5 o'clock in the morning the river closed.

—The Esperanza en route from St. Louis to this port, with a cargo of iron ore; was at Louisville on Tuesday, and it was expected she would get through the canal that night.

—The Nashville Union says the Evansville, Clarksville and Nashville trade, for which Throop's Silverthorn was built, is emphatically played out.

—A dispatch received from Evansville says the Idlewild led the Potomac all the way up to that point, passing her twenty miles above Memphis.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner. Spermatorrhea or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business, marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured. Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.

The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhea, Menorrhea, Dysmenorrhea, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 276 Penn street. ja10:1d&W

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Speedily Cured.---All Forms

of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief, Spermatorrhea or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse in earlier years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential. This institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the study of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured in any cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

SEVEN PER CENT.

STATE AID BONDS,

To the Arkansas Central Railway,

A FIRST LIEN

ON THE REVENUE OF THE ROAD,

ONLY $15,000 PER MILE,

At Seventy-five Cents,

And Accrued Interest.

This is the Great Central East and West route through Arkansas CONNECTING THE THREE LARGEST CITIES IN THE STATE, Helena, Pine Bluff and Little Rock, the Capital. This route has supported a line of FIVE STEAMERS for several years. Connects with the GREAT COAL FIELDS west of Little Rock, and the CATTLE TRADE from Texas, with unrestricted control of the COTTON PRODUCT FROM THE RICHEST PLANTATIONS IN THE WORLD. With these facts, careful investors will at once observe the immense traffic that awaits this Road.

Interest payable 1st October and April, at the Union Trust Company, New York.

Maps, circulars, pamphlets, giving full particulars of the loan, to be had by addressing the undersigned,

HOME NEWS.

The Pest House Robbery.—Yesterday Chief Clark arrested John McGant, on the information of Health Officer Hoch, charging him with being implicated in the robbery of the Small-pox Hospital at Claremont last week. The accused is in the lock-up awaiting a hearing.

Letters Held for Postage.—Mrs. Augusta Doerflinger, Danvill, Ill., 3c; J. M. Harris, Dayton, Ohio, 3c; M. Fraubmann, New York, N. Y., 3c; Theodore Schmitt, Williamsburg, N. Y., 3c; Miss Louisa Monier, New York, N. Y., 3c; George Small, Kittaning, Pa., 1c.

House Robbed.—Late on Wednesday night or early Thursday morning, the house of Mr. William J. McCleary, on Liberty street, in the Tenth ward, was entered by burglars, and jewelry to the value of about two hundred dollars was taken. There is not the slightest clue to the thieves.

A Double Dose.

Yesterday afternoon John Logan made an information before the Mayor charging "Bull" White, a notorious character, with disorderly conduct. White was arrested and placed in the lockup, and while there, pounded and otherwise abused a fellow prisoner. At the hearing yesterday afternoon, before Mayor Blackmore, "Bull" was fined fifty dollars and costs on the first charge, and the same for disorderly conduct in the cell. In default of payment he was committed to the Work House for six months for each offence.

Leg Injured.

Last evening about nine o'clock a young man named Kirkwood, a conductor on the Pittsburgh & Birmingham Passenger Railway, fell off the car while on Smithfield street a short distance below Fifth avenue, and one of the wheels passed over his leg. He was taken up and carried into the house of Mrs. McGinley near the scene of the accident, and a physician summoned. The limb was very badly crushed, and the physician is of the opinion that amputation will be necessary. The injured man is a son of Superintendent Kirkwood, of the P. & B. Railway.

A Justice of the Peace Charged With Embezzlement.

Before Alderman Doerr, of the Twenty-fifth ward, Frank Hampe made an information, charging John Rauber with embezzlement. The defendant is a Justice of the Peace of St. Clair borough, and the prosecutor is a member of the borough Council. It is alleged on the part of the prosecution that Hampe and Rauber were appointed a committee to settle a claim of $286 which the county was indebted to the borough for the maintenance of small pox patients, and that the accused collected the amount and has failed to properly account therefor to the borough treasurer. Rauber gave bail for a hearing.

Those Stolen Goods.

August Hauser and Mrs. Catharine Hauser made an information before the Mayor yesterday, charging John Cotis with larceny. The defendant was arrested on Wednesday evening by Detective Pender, and at the time had a large quantity of clothing in his possession. He gave his name first as John Syne, but afterwards said that his name was John Cotis. Mr. and Mrs. Hauser live over the Twelfth ward Bank on Penn avenue. They identified the goods and said that they were stolen off the clothes line. The defendant had a hearing yesterday afternoon, and was committed for Court in default of bail.

Runaway and Smash-up.

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock travellers along Ohio street, Allegheny, were treated to the excitement of a lively runaway. A horse attached to a light spring wagon, became frightened near the Diamond and started up the street at a killing pace. When Cedar avenue was reached the animal attempted to change his route but neglected to steer clear of a lamp post which stood in the way. The consequence was a badly wrecked vehicle and an affrighted and foaming horse brought up with a round turn. The animal was secured without further trouble and the fragments of the wagon cleared away. The turnout was the property of Dr. Campbell.

Coroner's Inquests.

We reported yesterday the death of Wm. Erwin, who dropped dead on the South Side on Wednesday night. The deceased was on his way from the office of Justice Schmolze, to his home on Carson street, between five and six o'clock in the evening, when he dropped dead. A man named John Shook, who saw him fall picked him up, when he was removed to his home. Yesterday morning Coroner West held an inquest upon the remains, and a verdict of "death from heart disease," was returned. Mr. Erwin was sixty-eight years of age, and was well known on the South Side as a sober and industrious man. He had been employed at the American Iron Works as a night watchman, for the last eighteen years. He leaves a wife and ten children.

Operations of Sharpers.

The Steubenville Herald of Wednesday, says: Several sharpers got on No. 10 at Pittsburgh, this morning, ticketed for Steubenville, and soon got into a little game of "Three Card Monte." One passenger lost one hundred dollars, another fifty dollars, and an old Jew lost his gold watch, valued at about two hundred dollars. He made a great fuss about it, and hailed the conductor to get his watch back. He (the Jew) wrote a telegram to an officer here to be at the train on its arrival. The sharpers were looking over his shoulder while he wrote it, and quietly slipped off the train at Bulger, where the train stopped to set off a car. The Jew then got off at Burgettstown, and went east on the next train.

A Great Rush at the Boston Clothing Store. 250 lbs of Rush.

We met at the Boston Square Dealing Clothing Store on Tuesday last. Mr. Sebastian, alias "Boss" Rush, the time honored old merchant, farmer and staunch clay Whig and Grant Republican; he was looking for an overcoat to suit his symmetry and proportions, he found the very thing. This store, 95 Smithfield street, or the one at 178 Federal street, is the place where men and boys of all sizes and ages, all polities, all creeds, can get the very thing to suit and fit them in the clothing line. Boss Rush is a fine burly gentlemen of sixty or more winters, an intelligent and very genial companion or friend, can be wise and grave, or playful and jocund, always hospitable and kind, such as it is pleasant to meet whether as visitor or host, he is a central figure in Wharton township, Fayette county, a mountainous district. The township revolves around him, it radiates from or converges to Boss Rush, long may he live to be a blessing to his neighborhood, and when he needs another coat, pants or vest, may the Boston Clothing Store be here to suit and fit him.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

Death From Heart Disease.

Last evening a colored man named Phillips, proprietor of a barber shop on Center avenue, while in his shop suddenly fell insensible. A physician was summoned but his efforts were of no avail, as life was extinct before he arrived. The cause of his death was heart disease. The deceased was a man of middle age, quite well known in the city, and one of our leading colored men. He leaves a family.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

An Explosion in a Rolling Mill.

Last evening about seven o'clock, James McClelland met with a painful accident, on the South Side, which in all probability will cause him the loss of his eye-sight. McClelland is an ex-policeman of the borough of Monongahela, but has lately been employed in the Clinton mills, as a "boiler." About half-past seven o'clock last evening he was engaged at work, when suddenly the furnace at which he was at work exploded with a loud noise, and the unfortunate man was terribly burned about the face and head. He was taken to his home a short distance from the works and Dr. Roberts summoned to attend him, who succeeded in relieving his sufferings to a considerable extent. Although the accident will not result fatally, the physician is of the opinion that the unfortunate man will loose both his eyes. The accident seems particularly sad and unfortunate, in view of the fact that a large family is dependent upon his labors for support.

SELF DESTRUCTION.

An Old Man Eighty-Four Years of Age Commits Suicide.

Another unfortunate who had become tired of life—this time a very old man—was brought to the notice of the coroner yesterday morning. John Richardson, an old man eighty four years of age, was a bell hanger by occupation, though he was unable to do much at his trade. He lived with his son at No. 101 Fifth avenue extension. For some time past the old man has been rather feeble, and almost entirely deaf. Although he had never made any attempt at suicide, he had often spoken of getting rid of the troubles and cares of this world, and wondered how it could be the most easily accomplished.

On Wednesday night about nine o'clock he went to bed apparently in his usual health. Yesterday morning, at half-past eleven oclock, he was found dead in his bed. Underneath the bed a two ounce vial was found in his shoe. It was labeled "laudanum," and had come from Rankin's drug store on Sixth street. The deceased was a widower, and a native of England. The jury returned a verdict of "Death from suicide."

TWELFTH WARD.

Meeting to Suggest Names for Ward Offices.

The Republicans of the Twelfth ward met Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing and suggesting names for the city and ward offices. Wm. Freeman was chosen Chairman and John T. Duff, Secretary. After some preliminary matters the following names were suggested to be voted for the nomination on Saturday, 23d November, between the hours of 3 P. M. and 7 P. M.:

Alderman (one to be nominated)—Cal. Bartley, Levi Springer, and John H. Jones.

Select Council (one to be nominated)—Jas. B. Hill, Jas. C. Rayburn and Jos. Leibler.

Common Council (two to be nominated)—Wm. McConway and Wm. Sewell.

Constable—Saml. Stancliff, Henry C. Morrison and Andrew Harcum.

Revisor—Jos. H. Nobbs.

School Directors—1st precinct, (one to be nominated)—Thos. Rosewell, Jas. S. Hamilton, and Richard Allen. 2d precinct, (two to be nominated)—Jas. Arbuthnot, Jas. Hammond, Jas. Mackerel and Wm. Sewell.

Assessor—James McCune and Henry C. Morrison.

Assistant Assessor—John Paisley.

Judge of Election—1st precinct, Saml. Mitchell. 2d precinct, David Robb.

Inspector—1st precinct, J. B. Nobbs, John Roberts. 2d precinct, James Hammond.

Return Inspectors—1st precinct, Saml. Herren, Jas. M. Hamilton. 2d precinct, Wm. Herren.

Boards of election officers were chosen for Saturday's primary as follows:

1st precinct—Judge, Fred. Rivers. Inspectors—James Atchison and C. Robb. 2d precinct—Judge, David Robb. Inspectors—B. F. Lloyd, James Mackrell. Candidates pledged themselves to support the candidates nominated Saturday, and they expect to elect their whole ticket.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS IN COUNCIL.

Young Men's Christian Association—Regular Anniversary Meeting—The Work of the Year—The Success of the Past and Prospects for the Future—The Annual Reports—Interesting Addresses by Rev. H. Hanna and Rev. G. J. Mingens.

The Anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh, were held last evening in the Third Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue. The new and beautiful auditorium was filled with an appreciative and deeply interested audience.

While the audience were assembling, they were entertained with a Voluntary by Professor H. Rohbock, which was finely rendered.

The exercises were then introduced by an Anthem by the Choir of the Third Presbyterian church, being a part of the 54th and 51st psalms.

H. K. Porter, Esq., President of the Young Mens' Christian Association introduced Rev. S. M. Vernon, pastor of Christ M. E. Church, who proceeded to read the opening scripture lesson, selecting the 10th chapter of Matthew, commencing at the 27th verse.

Rev. Joseph King, pastor of the First Christian Church, Allegheny, made the opening prayer. After which the audience joined in singing the hymn commencing:

"Blow ye the trumpet, blow
The gladly solemn sound,
Let all the nations know
To earth's remotest bound,
The year of Jubilee has come,
Return ye ransomed sinners home."

President Porter then came forward and said that he desired to make a change in the programme. Mr. Mingens must leave in the nine o'clock train, and therefore will make the first address.

Rev. G. J. Mingens, Superintendent of City Missions, New York, then came forward and spoke in substance as follows:

The great question before the Christian public is, "What shall we do with the Masses?" Forty-five per cent. of our large cities are unchristianized. In New York we have three hundred Christian societies, sixty-five local ones, and we spend two millions annually in this work. We have a murder every twenty-four hours. We have four hundred churches, five hundred ministers, one hundred lay missionaries. I believe you are not any better here. You have here a dangerous class. If they had the power, they would overcome you and me. About this I come to talk. We have thirty thousand ministers in this country. We don't want any more machinery, but we want something more. The Church is God's great means of doing the needed work. God has not ordained Young Men's Christian Associations or Tract Societies as such, but they are parts of the great work of the Church. If ever our country is to be saved it is by the Church. If the Church desires to saves the masses she must have piety and activity. The ministry cannot do all the work. You are as much responsible, dear friends, as they are. The great power comes from a truly consecrated heart. Look at the history of Dr. Chalmers. He had as much talent at the opening of his ministry as at the close, but never accomplished anything for Scotland and humanity until he consecrated himself to God. Such was the history also of John Berridge. I like the Methodist word "power." That was the secret of the success of Whitfield, Wesley, McCheyne and Summerfield. This is what the entire Church needs, and the world will feel their power. We want more piety than money. Giving is noble, but there is something nobler; speaking, acting, working, living for Christ is better. This the world will only take as the evidence of our Christianity. Then we want activity. There are too many ornamental Christians, like sponges, taking but giving nothing. Men are active in temporal affairs, but sits in his church like a dumb dog, a useless thing. They will sacrifice heart's-blood to get gold, but care nothing for undying souls. Satan is busy here, as elsewhere. I came past a theatre. There was music and everything to accomplish their ends. I came past an auctioneer and he was very earnest to sell a bogus watch for fifteen dollars. As Christians, let us learn a lesson from the world, and then a great work can be done for God and humanity.

The Young Men's Christian Association is a part of the Church. They need your sympathy, aid, and prayers. Young men need sympathy. They are subjected to temptation. You are to take hold of them before they go to ruin. Let the Church take possession of them. If they won't come to the Church, let the Church go to them. This is your work. Young men! you can influence young men better than any others. You can hold meetings for them and invite them to Church. Young men in their country home go to Church, but do not go in the city. The Church says to these: Come if you like. I know the power of young men for good or evil. Let me advise you. You must go to the young. Opening rooms won't do. There's a way of repelling a young man. Christianity is a manly thing. It does not take away his manhood. The Christian should not go about groaning; let sinners groan. Religion dignifies, ennobles, fills a man. Let the Christian look upward and look at God's free sunshine; let him be gladsome. The world's joys are vile shams. So ever present to young men, a dignified manly character. Go to them kindly, lovingly. Tell them God loves them. A missionary went into a drinking saloon, laid his hand on the bar-tender and asked him if he knew he was going to hell. Said he to the missionary: And where are you going? I don't know, said the missionary. You are going to be kicked out, and he did so. He was served right.

Citizens of Pittsburgh, aid these young men in their noble work, and let each worker for Christ fully consecrate himself to God.

At the close of Mr. Mingen's address the choir sang an anthem selected from the 119th Psalm. During the singing a collection was taken up, which amounted to the handsome sum of $1,593.15.

President Porter then made a few remarks, urging the members to more active work in the future than in the past. He referred to the annual report, and said that printed copies would be distributed to all present.

The report is brief, and refers to the fact that the position and work of the Association was unchanged. It has the sympathy of the churches, and is the recipient of kind courtesies from the press. Our rooms are still supplied with the current literature, secular and religious, and carefully selected books. Our appeals for money have been met liberally.

Total	$6,440 40

After the singing of another anthem by the choir, Rev. T. H. Hanna, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, was introduced and proceeded to deliver an appropriate and eloquent address.

He said that if we had been told for the first time this evening that there is in our city a band of young men who are regularly organized, have committees, reading rooms to which the stranger is ever welcome, have open air meetings, prayer meeting in different parts of the city, tenderly care for the poor, the friendless, the stranger, the suffering, what would be the sentiment of every swelling heart? It would have been, God bless these young men. And the stranger would offer a falling tear to the honor of such unselfish love. Such would be the feelings of all. And we would say these are our young men. Look into the widow's home. Hear the prayers and watch the falling tear. Look at that fallen one lifted up, or that one introduced into the Church of Christ, or the masses leavened by the Gospel of Christ. If for the first time we heard these things, what a eulogy we would give! What we long have we do not rightly value. The horse was never so highly prized as when these oxen are swinging through our streets. Take these associations away that bind men in brotherhood, and a halt would be felt in the Christian work. Once these associations were thought antagonistic to the Church, but this is exploded. I am a loyal Churchman—indeed a High-Churchman somewhat—but if I heard associations exalted above the Church, I would say raize them to the ground. But I rejoice to say that such thoughts are never uttered by them. For what they are doing for each other, and also for others, we as citizens bid them God speed. Young men, we assure you of the highest sympathy and aid of our people. And we ask you in return to consecrate yourselves to the Master's service. Business and social circles are being contaminated. See that you remain true and counteract the tide of error. You, with buoyant youthfulness, are the instruments to work for the cause of humanity and God. Fairy story tells of a wizard who changed a hostile city into stone. But a greater power comes and unlocks the petrified city, and armed warriors rush to battle and victory. So sleeps the Church to-day. Young men! blow a magic blast by the strength of God, and go on to glorious victory!

A closing hymn was then sung by the congregation, after which the closing prayer and benediction were made by Rev. F. A. Noble, and this intensely interesting meeting terminated.

False Report.

[To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

There is a report current that Mr. Jeremy, of the Select Council, voted and used his influence in favor of the vacation of Washington street, when the railroad ordinance was before that body. This is a mistake; Mr. Jeremy fought the vacation all the way through. He proposed an amendment requiring a bridge for vehicles over Washington street, and argued it so well that the vote was very close, and the amendment only defeated by two votes. An examination of the municipal record shows that Mr. Jeremy was always opposed to the vacation and did his best to prevent it.

....Business has brightened up the last few days—since the reappearance of the horses.

....The Pleasant valley cars are out again—operations were resumed on the road yesterday.

....The GAZETTE is the only paper in this city that has its own correspondent at Harrisburg.

....Sixty-five members of the Constitutional Convention receive the GAZETTE daily at Harrisburg.

....Shaw, the man interested in the observatory Object glass "remains" in the lockup; his friends thus far not having secured bail for him.

....A contemptible scamp whose name we are sorry we could not learn, whipped a sick horse yesterday, on Carson street, until the poor brute bled at the nose.

....Some enterprising individual, with an eye to the preparations for next Thursday, made way with a bucket of mince meat yesterday from the store of Wm. Schwartz, on Penn avenue, in the Tenth ward.

....The Louisville Courier-Journal says Pittsburgh coal was selling on Tuesday at twenty-two cents per bushel from barges. Consumers were charged an additional four cents per bushel for delivery.

....Dr. Brewster, of the South Side, yesterday attended a man named Schmidt, residing on the Brownsville road, who while carrying an arm full of furniture, fell over an embankment and broke a number of ribs.

....It must be romantic for lovers to stand at the middle of the suspension bridge these evenings, and watch the ice in the river below it as it glistens in the moonlight, but it occurs to us that it would be outrageously cold.

....The coal miners strike has ended and the men have returned to work again at the old price—four cents per bushel. Now that the strike has ended and the ravages of the epizootic have in a measure lost their force, we may look forward to the blessing of cheaper coal.

....A slight fire occurred about five o clock yesterday morning in the second story of a brick dwelling house in Birmingham, near the new market house. The fire was extinguished before any serious damage was done. The house was occupied by a man named Long.

....As the buckwheat cake season is upon us, the following is given as a recipe for "greasing the griddle": Take a turnip, cut it in half, rub the griddle with the inner side, and you will find the cakes to come off nice and smoothly, and you will be rid of the disagreeable odor of burning fat.

....The Bradock's Fields Lodge No. 510, A. Y. M., held its first annual meeting in the new hall of the Order on last Tuesday night. After the meeting the members were invited to the residence of Wm. Long, Esq., where a magnificent supper had been spread for their entertainment by the ladies of the place.

....Pittsburgh invited the Constitutional Convention to come there instead of adjourning to Philadelphia, but the members "knew by the smoke that so gracefully curled" that their wash bills would eat up the net profits if they accepted; and so they told Deacon White, who was the spokesman, that it wouldn't "soot" 'em.—Titusville Courier.

....Yesterday afternoon a dispatch was received at the Mayor's office from Oil City, asking that a boy named Michael Hennessey, who had run away from home, be arrested. The boy, who is but sixteen years of age, was arrested yesterday afternoon, and expressed a perfect willingness to go home. He is held until further information is received.

....All testimonies concur in the statement that the animals fatally affected by the dropsy, which has appeared as a sequel of the catarrhal disease among horses, are those which were worked during their attack of the latter malady. This is a statement so plain as to need no comment. Those are entitled to small sympathy who fail to take heed from it and give their sick horses both absolute rest and careful treatment.

....Last evening about seventy-five members of the Pittsburgh Bar assembled at the Monongahela House, and tendered a complimentary banquet to Hon. James Thompson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, who is about to retire from office. The banquet was rather private in its nature, though we understood that the occasion was a most interesting one, and doubtless will be long remembered by the participants.

....Post 151, G. A. R. enjoyed a most pleasant reunion and "camp fire" on Wednesday night, at their hall, on the corner of Fourteenth and Carson streets, Twenty-eighth ward. The evening was spent in smoking, telling anecdotes of camp life, etc. Refreshments, such as "hard tack," "fitch and beans" and coffee were served up in regular camp style. The occasion was a most delightful one, and the boys enjoyed themselves hugely.

....A day or two ago, a cloak belonging to General J. S. Negley, was stolen out of the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia. A well dressed man was arrested on suspicion of having been the depredator, and had a hearing before Alderman Beitler, under the name of James Kelly, which was admitted to be an assumed one. He was identified as having taken dinner at the hotel on the day designated, and was the person suspicioned of the theft when the cloak disappeared. To the Alderman he said his trade was blacksmithing, but admitted he had not worked at it for fifteen years. Being pressed to tell his business, he replied that he was a gambler. He was held for a further hearing.

PERSONAL.

Clerk J. R. Oxley, of Allegheny, is a candidate for School Director, from the Third ward.

Mr. O. O. Phillips comes out as a candidate for Select Council, from the First ward, Allegheny.

Col. Thomas M. Bayne, our accomplished District Attorney, is home from an eastern trip, and has resumed the discharge of his duties.

Alderman Guyan M. Irwin, who has been threatened with an abscess in the neck, is recovering and was out in the streets yesterday.

We failed to notice the presence at the Cathedral Memorial mass for the respose of the soul of Bishop O'Connor, of Bishop Shannahan, of Harrisburg.

Mr. John Pedding, of the county of York, England, has been visiting his friends in this vicinity during the past week, and left for his home on Tuesday. He made a tour of the States, embracing trips to the far west, Mammoth Cave in the South, Niagara, Washington city, the principal cities of the east, &c., &c., and returns to his native land with the most pleasant memories of his journey.

Iron ore, in large quantities, has been discovered upon the "Richings Farm," owned by the vocalist, in Upper Providence, Chester county. The quality is said to be unsurpassed. An acid test made by Dr. Dickison, of Media, showed eighty per cent. of pure hematite of iron. He thinks the mine, from its richness, will average fifty-nine per cent. The discovery is one of much importance to Mrs. Bernard, as it will do what the English opera has not for its pioneer in this country—bring heaps of wealth to her doors.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

MAYOR CALLOW had but three common cases at the hearing yesterday morning.

ON oath of Emil Matthews, Alderman Mercer, of the Twenty-fifth ward, South Side, issued a warrant for the arrest of Louis and Ignatius Vogle, who are charged with disorderly conduct at a drinking saloon.

PETER KLEMAN was arrested by Alderman Irwin's police to answer the charge of assault and battery, preferred by L. Shamburgh. The defendant waived a hearing and gave bail for court in sum of three hundred dollars.

YESTERDAY afternoon Detective Pender arrested a boy named James Kelly, on a charge of having stolen the money drawer from a milk wagon on Webster avenue. The drawer contained about four dollars. The boy is locked up.

BEFORE Deputy Mayor Salisbury, of the South Side, Michael Rosefelt lodged a complaint against John Stenger, Peter Baker and Adam Wilbert, charging them with having assaulted his brother, Charles Rosefelt, and threatened to kill him. The accused were held for a hearing.

ANTHONY BREIGLE made information before Mayor Callow last evening against S. Hood, for perjury. Breigle keeps a saloon in the Fifth ward Allegheny, and alleges that the accused swore falsely against him, at a time when he was before a magistrate for selling liquor on Sunday. A warrant was issued.

THOMAS POWERS, who was arrested on suspicion of having stolen two coats from a clothes cleaning establishment, had a hearing before the Mayor yesterday morning on two informations. The first was made by Mr. Strong, a pawn broker on Sixth street, charging Powers with the larceny of an overcoat, and the other was by Wm. Murphy, who charged Powers with the larceny of a coat and a pair of gloves valued at twenty dollars. In default of five hundred dollars bale in each case, Powers was committed for trial.

HEED THE LAW.

The Election of School Directors—A New Provision—A Word of Information Before the Nominations.

Among the nominations to be made at the primary meetings to be held in a short time, are those of school directors, and a word of information in relation to that may not be just now out of place. It seems that in some of the wards in which there are two precinctes. Directors have been named, all of whom reside in the one precinct. It should be borne in mind that this is illegal and candidates thus elected would not be eligible. Last winter the Legislature passed an act in reference to the subject, in which is the following provision:

"That where any ward of the city of Pittsburgh is divided into two or more election precincts, said ward being one sub-school district, the electors of each election precinct shall vote only for school directors who are residents of their own election precinct; and each election precinct shall be equally represented in the school board of said sub-district."

It follows from this that the directors should be chosen with equal respect to each precinct. And now that persons are being suggested for the office, it would be well for citizens at the preliminary meetings to take a note of the law.

Kentucky Public Library Drawing.

Only a few days now remain for the sale of tickets in the Louisville Gift Concert. The drawing will most positively take place on Saturday, December 7th. Messrs. Gildenfenny & Hess, the popular booksellers and news dealers, 45 Sixth avenue, are the agents for Pittsburgh. The rush for tickets the last few days is immense. Call and purchase a ticket before it is too late.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT—FULL BENCH.

Buchanan's appeal; Washington county. Argument concluded by McClung and Miller for appellants, and by Patterson contra.

Campbell's appeal; Washington county. Submitted by C. S. Fetterman for appellant, and by Hart contra.

Mellon's appeal; Washington county. Argued by Patterson for appellant, and by Miller contra.

Jeckel vs. Fifth ward school district, Allegheny. Submitted by Lucas for plaintiff in error, and by Brown and Hill contra.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—JUDGE M'KENNAN.

James H. Bowen vs. Robinson et. al. Jury withdrawn by plaintiff and case continued. The plaintiff in this case claimed surprise, in that a deposition in favor of defendant was admitted, though it had not been filed in court, but retained among papers of defendant. Both were present at the taking of the deposition under rule of the court. The plaintiff claims that in the matters to be brought out they would have to call a witness of defence who had been permitted to go home under the belief that his testimony was unimportant. Therefore the continuance was allowed.

The case of Williams vs. Angell; action to recover on contract for sale of oil, was taken up. The claim amounts to about $1,600. Cause in hearing.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE STOWE.

The evidence in the case of McGinnis vs. McGinnis was concluded yesterday morning, and the remainder of the day was occupied with addresses from counsel. There were speeches from Messrs. Swartzwelder, Marshall, Brown and Large, which were just concluded when Court adjourned. The Court will charge the jury this morning.

Trial List for To-day.

Meeting of the Monongahela District in Birmingham—An Interesting Session—Resolutions Passed.

The Monongahela District of the Independent Order of Good Templars, comprising the counties of Allegheny, Washington, Greene, Westmoreland and Fayette, met in Convention at Odd Fellows Hall, corner Sarah and Eighteenth streets, East Birmingham, Tuesday November 19th, 1872. The meeting was called to order by Thos. Morgan, W. C. T., who appointed a number of officers pro tem. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. B. Lucas.

The Convention was in session for two days and one evening, and a vast amount of important business was transacted, among which was a number of good and substantial resolutions.

During the session the merits of the local option and prohibition laws were discussed by Rev. J. B. Lucas, Rev. Thos. McCleany, Rev. G. G. Westfall, Messrs. Morgan, Ingram, Butler, Mellinger, Duvall, Forsyth, Wagner and others representing various lodges in the district.

A committee appointed by the Allegheny County Christian Temperance Alliance, consisting of Rev. G. G. Westfall, Rev. J. E. Lucas and D. R. Ingram, Esq., requested that the Good Templars represented in said Convention would co-operate with the Temperance Alliance, and also to appoint or elect delegates to the State Convention, to be held in Pittsburgh, December 10th, in answer to which the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the Monongahela Valley District Convention recognize in the Allegheny County Christian Temperance Alliance a powerful temperance organization, and this Convention will gladly co-operate with them in the great work they have undertaken, and that we will elect five delegates to represent this body at the meeting of the State Convention, in Pittsburgh, Tuesday, December 10, 1872.

At the afternoon session, Wednesday, the 20th, the following were elected for the next Convention, which will be held in Pittsburgh, on the second Tuesday of February, 1873: W. C. T., H. Wagner; W. V. T., Miss Jennie Pearson; W. Secretary and Treasurer, J. Allen Wilson; W. Chaplain, Rev. J. B. Lucas; W. I. G., Miss McCormick; W. O. G., Mr. Duncan; W. M., Charles D. Butler.

There was a great interest manifested throughout the entire Convention. Before the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was tendered to all the papers wherein the notices of the Convention were printed. The meeting adjourned Wednesday, November 20th, at 4:20 P. M., with singing and prayer.

TROY HILL ROAD.

Allegheny Councilmen on a Tour of Inspection—Trying the Virtues of Ocular Demonstration—A Visitor Misses a Turnout.

The making of a new road for the accommodation of persons residing on Troy Hill, Allegheny, has been a matter that has engaged considerable attention, during the past two years, from the people up there, and Councils. Plans have been proposed several times, and the project has been the subject of lively and frequent debate in Council, but no decision has ever yet been reached. The matter came before Councils at their last meting, backed by an earnest appeal, from several sources, that some definite understanding be fixed, and the result was, a "meeting on the ground" was ordered. In pursuance of this action about twenty members of Council yesterday proceeded to the designated section of Troy Hill, where the road is contemplated, and satisfied themselves by ocular demonstrations of the merits and possibility of making the proposed thoroughfare. No expression of opinion was had, but it is probable a special meeting of Councils will be called next week to finally settle the matter.

An interesting episode in connection with the visit will make it memorable to at least one member of the party. Before going up the hill Mr. Wm. Wetach, member of Common Council left his horse, attached to a buggy, hitched in front of Eberhardt's brewery. Upon returning he was unable to find the turnout and the result of his inquiries convinced him that he had been made the victim of robbery; no trace of the thief could be obtained; it was a more effectual way of disposing of the animal than the epizootic. The turnout may turn up, however again, as the police are on the lookout.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Two Children in the Flames—Explosion of a Lamp—Fatal Result.

An accident of a heart-rending character occurred in East Bethlehem township, Washington county, last week, says the Examiner, resulting in the death of one little girl, and the serious imperiling of the life of another, and all from the imprudent or careless handling of carbon oil. Monday evening, November 11, shortly after Henry Brister, living about two miles back of Fredericktown, had returned home with a half gallon can of carbon oil, one of his daughters, aged about twelve years, picked up the can and proceeded to fill a coal bank lamp, imprudently neglecting to extinguish the lighted wick of the lamp. The result can readily be imagined. Before she had completed the filling the oil became ignited and the can exploded, setting her clothing on fire, and burning her flesh in a shocking manner. Her clothes were literally burnt off her person, and all parts of her body were more or less injured. She died about three o'clock the next morning, after suffering the most excruciating pain.

A younger sister of the unfortunate girl, who was standing near at the time, was also badly burned in consequence of her clothing becoming ignited. Her injuries would probably have been suddenly fatal had not the other thrown a bucket of water over her, and thus succeeded in extinguishing the flames. It was believed, at the date of our latest information, that she would recover.

The Three "Bs"—Boston, Bankruptcy and Boots—The Three "Cs"—Cheap Chances for Cash.

The terrible fire in Boston played greater havoc with the boot and shoe trade and the leather trade than with any other special branches of business. The loss in stock was immense and the resources of those engaged in those trades must, for some time to come, be seriously crippled. As a natural consequence the prices of boots and shoes of all kinds—and more particularly of ready made boots and shoes will be advanced at least twenty to thirty per cent. In other words, five dollar boots will be sold at seven dollars before the week is through. There is, however, one place in Pittsburgh where it is certain no advance will be made. This place is the New York Bankrupt Boot and Shoe Store in the basement of the Dispatch Iron Building. The managers of this store purchased an immense stock at bankrupt sales in Eastern cities and intend to sell at the same wonderfully low figures ticketed upon their goods before the Boston fire occurred. No such cheap boots and shoes have been offered in this city for years. They are cheap in every sense of the word; their quality and make are as excellent as their cost is marvellously small. New York Bankrupt Boot and Shoe Store, in the basement store room, under Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch counting room, 67 and 69 Fifth avenue, Dispatch iron building.

I. O. O. F.

Semi-Annual Meeting of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania—Business Transacted.

The semi-annual session of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, I. O. O. F., commenced in Philadelphia on Tuesday. The Grand Master, William Steadman, presided, beside which there were present the remaining elective and subordinate officers, in addition to a large number of Past Grands, and a quorum of Representatives from the various sections of the State. The business transacted consisted of the reading of reports of committees, report of the Grand Master, and the report of the Deputy Grand Master, Jacob M. Campbell, which contained the various sums donated to the sufferers by the Somerset fire, as follows: Contributions from Subordinate Lodges, $4,536.65; from Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania, $500; from Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, $1000; from Grand Lodge, being balance of fund collected for Northwest fires, but not required, $2,608 74, making an aggregate of $8,645 39. A number of new members were admitted.

Grand Secretary Nicholson stated that, immediately after the Boston fire, he addressed to the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts a letter asking if the members of the order had suffered materially and offering aid. To this he had received an answer from Charles D. Cole, Grand Secretary, expressing thanks and saying that, though a large number of members of the order were thrown out of employment, but few dwelling houses were burned, and they would probably not need the aid of the brotherhood in other cities. The correspondence was ordered to be entered on the journal.

Past Grand Representative Simpson read the report of the Grand Representatives to the Grand Lodge of the United States, showing the institution of the Grand Lodge of the German Empire in Prussia, and the progress of the order in Australia, Peru and the British Isles.

Representative Bertram, of 190, offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to ascertain the feasibility of providing homes for needy orphans and widows, unable to support themselves, in such institutions as already exist in different portions of the State, ascertaining, as nearly as possible, the cost in such cases, and any other information bearing on this subject, and the most feasible means of raising such sums annually as may be necessary to carry out this prominent feature of our order, and report at the next annual session of this Grand Lodge.

Representative Greenwood, of 190, moved to postpone the subject indefinitely, which was agreed to, after which adjournment followed.

THE TORPEDO CASE AGAIN.

Hamar Charged with a Second Offence of Violating the Injunctions of the United States Court.

The case of A. Hamar, which occupied the attention of the United Stated Court for so long, promises to come up for their consideration again upon the same offence, that of contempt. It will be remembered that Hamar was arrested on an attachment from the United States Court restraining him from infringing upon the rights of E. A. L. Roberts, owner of the patent oil well torpedo. After a hearing before Judge McCandless, he was sentenced to jail for contempt, and also required to pay a fine of several hundred dollars. After he had been in jail for some days, or rather at the time of the hearing, it was alleged that Hamar's wife was lying very ill, and vigorous efforts were made to secure his pardon. Some six or eight weeks since, after strong representations had been made of the precarious condition of Mrs. Hamar's health, President Grant pardoned the offender, and he immediately left the city for home.

The theory that Hamar's experience in this case would be sufficient to prevent the possibility of his getting into the same trouble again was suddenly exploded when Hamar commenced again exploding the torpedoes. Yesterday morning District Attorney Swoope made application in the United States Circuit Court for a rule on Hamar to show cause why an attachment for contempt should not issue against him. Affidavits were filed showing that since his release from prison he has planted and exploded some twenty-five hundred torpedoes in disobedience to the injunctions of the Court. One of the torpedoes, which had been exploded, was exhibited in Court. Affidavits were also filed, in which it was averred that Hamar had asserted his determination to carry on the business in spite of the Court or its injunctions; that he had employed an agent, furnishing him with a horse and wagon for the purpose of carrying out this determination, and that he had ordered from the East some twenty-five cast-iron torpedo shells or cases, so as to fill them with the explosive compound. The rule asked for was granted and Mr. H. will have an opportunity to explain. One thing is certain, he cannot in this case plead ignorance of the law, as he did before, and how he will account for his second offence is difficult to imagine.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Large and well pleased audiences have been the rule during the week at this popular establishment, and the romantic drama of "The Red Pocket Book" has certainly given a great deal of pleasure to the visitors of the Opera House. Mr. Proctor should be well content with the manner he has been received by those who remember his former visits to our city; with them he has lost none of his well earned popularity. The members of this excellent stock company, render their several characters in the drama with a grace and earnestness which materially assist its success. The scenic artist and machinist, whose talents have been brought into requisition for the production of "The Red Pocket Book," are deserving of praise for the admirable manner they have presented the play to the public. It will again be presented this evening, the occasion of Mr. Proctor's benefit, when we hope too see a much larger audience present than any that has greeted him during the week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Morlacchi has drawn a larger house each evening than on the preceeding one since her advent, and the fact of last night's being the last opportunity to witness "Wept of the Wish-Ton-Wish" was a sufficient inducement to fill the house comfortably. This evening is the benefit of M'lle Morlacchi, and "Esmereida," the acknowledged master-piece of Victor Hugo, will be presented. In this drama the audience will be treated to several displays of the exquisite dancing of M'lle Morlacchi. The Louisville Ledger says: "The piece is thrilling in interest, from beginning to end; it is well put on the stage, and the support is notably good; Morlacchi gives it the charm of a beautiful and exceedingly talented artiste."

THE AMERICAN THEATRE.—The wonderful performances of the male and female gymnasts, the ludicrous situations of the "skatists," together with the versatile Milburn and a host of other attractions fill this house at each performance. The great feature of the programme is the freshness with which they are arranged. The entertainments well deserve the name of "Variety."

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—An unusually good bill last night filled the house to its utmost capacity. The performances of the Zitella troupe are well worth seeing.

Pittsburgh Ladies.

The ladies of Pittsburgh are proverbial in their taste for dressing, and the best evidence of the superior character of any dry goods and dress goods store is the fact that it is made their rendezvous in making their purchases. Such an establishment is that of Messrs. Rosenbaum & Fleishman, No. 76 Market street, which is now recognized in the front rank in the line of trade carried on there. The characteristics of the store are the most complete assortment of goods and the cheapest prices, and that these advantages are not overrated is attested in the fact of the large trade which the house enjoys—not excelled elsewhere in the city.

We have heretofore given a comparison of their prices which need not be here repeated. We desire, however, to call the attention of the ladies to the fact that the firm are now offering especial inducements in the line of cloakings and dress goods. They offer the best Lyon's silk cloaking velvets at $6, which cannot be had elsewhere for less than $9, and Lyons' dress velvet for $9—selling elsewhere at $12. This is a stock which their resident purchaser in the east secured at the auction sale of a well known house, and such bargains have never before been offered.

Their prices for other goods will be found equally as attractive, and our lady readers should not forget to improve the opportunity thus offered.

Fine Carriages.

A peculiar feature of the moving panorama, daily seen on our streets is the fact of the increase in the number and beauty of the family carriages which may be seen in almost countless numbers, every afternoon. Our people seem to be thoroughly able to appreciate excellence, and to bestow their patronage accordingly, and hence we find that our home manufacturers, such as C. West & Co., who manufacture such vehicles, have all the trade they can accommodate. The carriages and lighter vehicles manufactured by this firm have won their way in Pittsburgh, and many of those which attract attention on our streets have been turned out from this establishment, and have brought them in so many orders that their bazaar, Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, is constantly filled with the vehicles. We are glad to note the success of the firm—especially as it is an indication of the progress of Pittsburgh enterprise. F

Interesting to Houseowners,

Just now when winter is coming on, and fires are in order, it will be interesting for houseowners to know that Mr. William McKee, No. 317 Liberty street, has a large collection of Cook, Parlor and Heating Stoves, which he offers to purchasers at the lowest rates. The stoves are all of the latest improved patterns, and in each department, are without superiors,—are guaranteed to answer every reasonable demand.

Mr. McKee has also in store a selection of grates of all kinds, grate fronts, and a general assortment of small castings, to which the attention of builders and houseowners is invited. He cannot be undersold, and guarantees the manufactures. The salesroom is at 317 Liberty street, where all orders will be promptly filled.

WE have 40 men at work on Wheelbarrows, Hand Carts, Ox Yokes and Store Trucks, at Duquesne Wagon Works, near Soldier's Monument.
C. COLEMAN & SON.

—The Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., of Indiana, adjourned on Thursday afternoon, after the election of Grand officers. Platt J. Wise, of Ft. Wayne, was elected Grand Master, and Richard Owen, of New Harmony, Ind., Deputy Grand Master.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

Shakspeare's Conundrum Solved at Last—What a Place of Business may not be Named.

A saloon keeper in this city yesterday discovered a law concerning the naming of places of business, which may not be generally known. After several difficulties and at considerable expense he opened out a saloon on Smithfield street, not many squares from the Postoffice, and after fitting it up complete for business, noticed that it was without a name. Its location suggested the name of "Postoffice," and the proprietor, thinking that a very happy hit, at once adopted it. The name was accordingly painted in large, bold letters, and all went serene until Postmaster Stewart noticed it. He immediately sought the proprietor and proceeded to enlighten him by reading the following section of the Postoffice Law:

"SECTION 62.—That any person who shall, without authority from the Postmaster General, set up or propose to keep any office or place of business bearing the sign, name, or title of Postoffice, shall forfeit and pay for every such offense not more than five hundred dollars."

The proprietor was perfectly astounded, and in considerably less time than that sign was painted it was made invisible by a heavy coat of white paint. The saloon keeper is now anxiously seeking a name for his place of business that will be appropriate and at the same time legal. The question might occur, would the office of the Post—sometimes called the Post office—be included in this section?

BUFFALO, November 21.—Cattle: receipts today on account of detention of stock trains on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway only 68 head, making total for the week thus far 6,443, or 375 cars against 246 same last week; market more active than yesterday at ⅛c off; a scarcity of cars for shipping purposes retards trade; as the weather has now settled it is hoped that trains will be on time to-morrow. To-day every available car in yards was used for shipping; run of cattle last 24 hours was medium quality, but few droves prime were disposed of; sales 537 Indiana steers, 1,114 to 1,491 lbs, $5,15@6,87½; 16 Indiana cows and heifers, 1,085 lbs, $4,50; 328 Illinois steers, 1,095 to 1,414 lbs., $5,75@6,87½; 36 Illinois stockers, 980 lbs, $5; 65 Ohio steers, 1,099 to 1,320, $5,12½@6,50. Sheep and lambs: receipts to-day 2,000, making total for week thus far 7,400, against 1,400 same time last week; market lively at ¼ to ⅜c advance on Canada stock over last week's closing prices; western sheep $4@6,25; sales of 138 Canada sheep and lambs, 86, at $5,40; 107 Canada lambs, 80 to 93, at $7@7,25; 511 Canada sheep, 120 to 140, at $5,50@6,00; 393 Michigan sheep, 94 to 100, at $6,12½@6,25. Hogs: receipts to-day 1,400, making the total for the week thus far 16,200, against 29,400 the same time last week; market dull at yesterday's prices. There was a difficulty in shipping and a large accumulation of medium sized hogs, which are unsaleable. This causes buyers to hang off, and sales are confined principally to local packers, light hogs not exceeding 200 lbs. suitable for New York trade, and heavy stock 300 pounds and upwards, for Boston market in good request at prices ranging from $4,25 to $4,40. Medium sized hogs are a drag on market; sales 5,000 Ohio and Michigan hogs, 200 to 280, at $4,25@4,40; choice lots a shade higher, one lot Canada sold, $4,15; 140 select Ohio hogs 191 at $4,40; 25 Ohio do 206 at $4,35.

CHICAGO, November 21.—Cattle: receipts 2,842; market dull; shippers holding off on account of unfavorable eastern advices and uncertainty of transportation on account of snow on some roads; local butchers buying sparingly, as market is full of poultry and game; a few Texans, $5,10@6,00; shipments 1,180. Hogs: receipts 16,179; active and higher; packers' and shippers' buying range $4@4,30; most sales good lots $4,10@4,20; shipments 3,356. Sheep: receipts 1,581; dull and unchanged.

BALTIMORE, November 21.—Cattle opened active but closed dull; very best on sale to-day 6@7¼c; that generally rated first quality 4½@6c; medium or good to fair quality 3@5¼c; receipts 2,257; sales 2,130. Hogs active at full prices; 6@6¼c; receipts 9,587. Sheep: good grades scarce and wanted at 4½@6c for fair to extra; receipts 1,793.

Cotton.

CHARLESTON, November 21.—Cotton firm; middlings 18¼c; good ordinary 17¾@17¼c; ordinary 17@17¼c; net receipts 2,253 bales; sales 600; stock 29,013.

MOBILE, November 21.—Cotton quiet and easier; middlings 19c; net receipts 1,988; exports coastwise 849; sales 600; stock 27,383.

GALVESTON, November 21.—Cotton strong; ordinary 18⅜c; good ordinary 16¾@16⅞c; net receipts 2,308; sales to-day 1,500; last evening 1,750; stock 49,447.

SAVANNAH, November 21.—Cotton quiet and firm; good ordinary 17⅜@17¾c; low middlings 18⅛@18⅜c; middlings 18⅜; net receipts 4,163; exports: continent 1,113, coastwise 1,470; sales 842; stock 69,811.

HOW TO USE MERCURY.

Never put mercury into your stomach. The proper place for it is the thermometer or the barometer. There it will inform you of the changes of temperature, or forewarn you of the coming of storms, thus indicating the times and seasons when it is necessary to reinforce the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in order to ward off the ailments which peculiar conditions of the elements produce. When the quicksilver suddenly falls several degrees of Fahrenheit, as it often does at this season, fortify the system against the depressing influence of this sudden abstraction of heat by a dose of the most genial and wholesome of all invigorants. Or if the indicator of your barometer points to stormy, brace up for those damp, driving gales which are sure to search to the very marrow of an untoned organization. Fever and ague, chronic indigestion, violent colics, dysentery, bilious intermittents, rheumatism, and a host of pulmonary complaints, come of such visitations. no18

SURE CURE FOR THE EPIZOOTIC.

BY M'QUAKER.

One day to our smoky city came the awful epizooty,
Came like plague upon the east-wind all the way from Philadelphia, on the railroad came the "zooty."
The horses all took influenza,
Took it from the Hippodame to the drayman's Pachada me.
All the streets were soon deserted and the people had to foot it,
Foot it out into the country while the panic raged most fearful.
Stewart had a lively bay horse,
Bay horse valued very highly, but he got the influenza.
He sent for Doctor Grimisagle, doctor of the epizooty.
Stewart asked for explanation, explanation of his bay horse.
Said the Doctor:
Hippophagous Hipphagy, Pachedermateous Equinal,
Equinal Epiglottis, Epiglotts Influenza,
Influenza Epizymosts, Epizooty, Hippodam-me,
Hippodam-me, Hippathology, Noso-comical, Nosography.
"Will he die?" said Stewart mildly, mildly as a summer sunbeam.
Shook his head the doctor sadly, sadly as the horse coughed loudly.
Then said Stewart "I will fix him, fix him of the epidemic."
And he took a can of powder, took it from his little wardrobe,
And he filled the horses nose up, filled it full to overflowing,
Then a five foot fuse he lighted, then departed slowly,
While the doctor ran in fright off.
The horse coughed once and then was cured,
Cured of the "Gastroerysipelatohspachazooty."

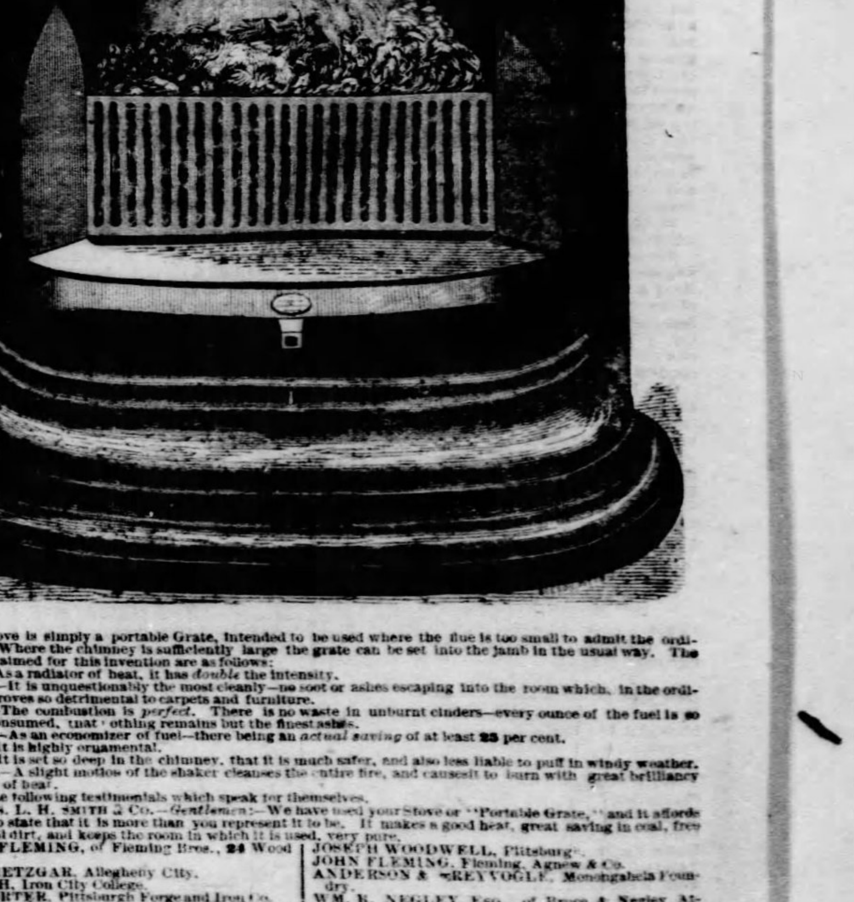
WELLMAN'S
PATENT
REFLECTOR GRATE AND STOVE



This Stove is simply a portable Grate, intended to be used where the flue is too small to admit the ordinary grate. Where the chimney is sufficiently large the grate can be set into the jamb in the usual way. The advantages claimed for this invention are as follows:
First—As a radiator of heat, it has double the intensity.
Second—It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room which, in the ordinary grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
Third—The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
Fourth—As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.
Fifth—It is highly ornamental.
Sixth—It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.
Seventh—A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.
Read the following testimonials which speak for themselves.
MESSRS. L. H. SMITH & CO.—Gentlemen:—We have used your Stove or "Portable Grate," and it affords us pleasure to state that it is more than you represent it to be. It makes a good heat, great saving in coal, free from dust and dirt, and keeps the room in which it is used, very pure.
